Nasty Weather Comes to Ohio; Midwest Reels

New Snowfall Pounds Kansas and Missouri, Heads Northeastward

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Ohio, still punchy from snowstorms and unseasonable cold, got another batch of nasty weather today — probably from the front edge of a new storm raking the midwest.

Ohio temperatures were the warmest in several weeks Tuesday, with Chesapeake rising to 44, Cincinnati 38 and Cleveland 36.

Skies became cloudy during the night as a low pressure area which moved over Texas on Tuesday moved toward Missouri. Snow began this morning before daylight at Dayton and spread eastward to Columbus, while freezing rain and sleet was reported at Cincinnati and Piketon.

The snow is forecast to spread across the northern two-thirds of Ohio today, but changing to rain over most of the area by afternoon.

The Ohio forecast for the next five days:

Temperatures will average 10 to 12 degrees below normal. Normal high 46 north to 51 south, normal low 28-32. Continued cold with only minor daily changes. Precipitation will total about three-quarters of an inch in snow flurries Thursday and snow or rain again about Friday or Saturday.

The new storm, powered by easterly winds of 20 to 25 m.p.h., dumped heavy snow from eastern Kansas and northern Missouri as it swept northeastward.

The fresh snow fell atop a covering more than a foot high in many places in Kansas, northern Missouri, southeast Nebraska and southern Iowa.

Heavy snow warnings were issued from northern Missouri northward through Iowa and into southeastern Minnesota and eastward across Illinois and parts of Wisconsin, Indiana and lower Michigan.

The severe late winter storm kept schools closed in many areas. Office and factories also shut down in some sections. Driving conditions throughout the snow belt were hazardous and travel was sharply curtailed.

More than seven inches of snow fell in Kansas City Tuesday, adding to the half-foot fall on Monday. Two inches of snow piled atop the white blanket in Ottawa, Kan., in a 45-minute period.

At least six traffic deaths were blamed on the stormy weather in Kansas. Traffic was halted on U.S. 75 north of Topeka because of cars and blowing, drifting snow.

Thunderstorms rumbled across the northern Gulf states, with locally heavy rain in parts of southern Alabama, northwest Florida and southern Georgia. The Weather Bureau canceled an earlier forecast of possible tornadoes in central Mississippi and west central Alabama.

The unseasonable cold in most of the eastern half of the nation persisted. Freezing weather extended from Virginia to along the Ohio River across southern Missouri southwestward into northwestern Texas and west and northward to the eastern Washington border.

It was around zero in northern lower Michigan. Miami reported a mild 74 degrees.

Congress Gives Aid To Ohio Immigrant

WASHINGTON (AP) — Daniel Wilgins, 45, a native of Yugoslavia and citizen of Germany now living in Mansfield, Ohio, will be able to stay in this country because of a bill passed in the House Tuesday.

Wilgins had been denied a visa after withholding information regarding his service in the German army during World War II, a House report said.

Dr. Robert P. Scott of Mansfield wrote a letter to Rep. Robert W. Levering (D-Ohio). Dr. Scott noted that Wilgins' mother is 84 and said that deportation of her only living son might bring about her death. Wilgins lives with his mother, Mrs. Magdalena Wilgins, and his sister-in-law, Mrs. Christine Wilgins.

Negro Arrest List Tops 500

Police Crack Down In Southern Cities

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
More than 500 Negroes have been arrested in the largest mass police crackdown since demonstrations against segregated eating facilities in the South began a month and a half ago.

The blanket arrests Tuesday led one state official of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People to charge that police were engaging in strong-arm, Fascist-like tactics.

Police at Orangeburg, S.C., used tear gas and fire hoses to quell an estimated 1,000 demonstrating students and arrested 350 of them. All were charged with breach of the peace and released under $10 bond each.

At Atlanta, in segregation-minded Georgia, 77 Negroes and 2 white youths were jailed in connection with sit-ins at 10 downtown cafeterias. The Negroes were released later on $300 bond each. The white youths were given 30-day jail terms.

Among those arrested was the Rev. A. D. Williams King, a brother of the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., Negro integration leader and exponent of passive resistance. Arrests also occurred in two other South Carolina cities and at St. Augustine, Fla.

The Orangeburg arrests came after police tried to break up a protest march by about 1,000 students from South Carolina A. & T. and Claflin Colleges. The students refused to disperse. Fire hoses were turned on about 300 of them and two tear gas cannisters were exploded.

The Rev. H. P. Sharper, a Florence Baptist minister and president of the South Carolina NAACP Conference, said that because of "strong-arm, Fascist-like tactics" of peace officers "we conclude that appeal to federal agencies is our last resort."

In other South Carolina developments, 70 Negroes were arrested at Rock Hill as they picketed City Hall. Ten Negroes were arrested at Columbia and charged with trespassing at lunch counters in variety stores.

Two State Agencies Order Changes at Youth Canteen

Two state agencies have requested changes in the physical facilities of the Pickaway County Youth Canteen.

The Canteen, located over the First National Bank, at Court and Main Sts., is a Community Fund activity, a recreation spot for all the county's youth.

The Division of the State Fire Marshall in the Department of Commerce has asked the Canteen to make some changes such as installation of exit signs, enlarging a window to be used as a fire escape exit, and venting of space heaters.

The letter ordering the changes was received a week ago. Both Canteen officials and the bank, owner of the building, were ready to go ahead with the changes.

Yesterday the bank received a letter from the Division of Factory and Building Inspection, Department of Commerce. It called for other, almost contradictory, changes to be made.

THE LATEST letter has put Canteen and bank officials in a

Russia Urges 1,700,000-Man Military Cut

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union today proposed that the United States, the U.S.S.R. and Red China cut their armed forces to 1,700,000 men each within 18 months.

Soviet Delegate Valerian A. Zorin made the proposal to the 10-nation disarmament conference at a closed session during which the five Western allies formally submitted their three-stage plan to halt the arms race. The Western plan was made public Tuesday and got a chilly reception from the Soviets.

The Soviet plan—which has not been formally put before the conference—is based on Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's proposal to the U. N. General Assembly last September that all nations disarm completely within a four-year period.

Zorin said the Soviet plan also calls for disarmament in three stages. Paralleling the troop cuts for the three biggest powers, he proposed that Britain and France reduce their armed forces to 650,000 men each.

The United States now has about 2½ million men in uniform. The U.S.S.R. says it has 3,623,000, but Khrushchev has announced 1,200,000 will be demobilized within the next year or so. U. S. military officials estimate Red China has 2,600,000 men in its army and an air force large enough to man 2,000 jets.

The Western plan calls for the United States and Soviet Union to hold their forces to 2½ million men each in the first stage, to cut them to 2,100,000 in the second stage, with corresponding reductions in other countries. The plan sets no timetable for the stages.

Real Shamrocks Sent to School

WASHINGTON (AP) —Shamrocks from Ireland are being sent to the first graders at Cedar Heights School in Lancaster, Ohio, for St. Patrick's Day.

Rep. Walter H. Moeller (D-Ohio) arranged for the shamrocks through the Irish embassy and an airline after the youngsters made the request. Moeller's district includes Lancaster.

Their teacher, Mrs. June J. Arter, also sent along a series of questions about Ireland. Among them was: "Are there snakes in Ireland?"

Adrian Raftery, third secretary at the Irish embassy, replied: "Ireland does not have snakes other, of course, than zoo specimens. The questioner doubtless has in mind the tradition that St. Patrick is said to have banished snakes from the country."

A helicopter from Hill Air Force Base in Utah brought the five—all members of the same family—from the snowy mountain to the warmth of this community. It was a difficult task.

Wes Stoddard, 50, a veteran bush pilot from Anchorage, Alaska, was pilot of the downed plane.

He told newsmen the plane, flying in poor visibility, had just cleared a mountain when it was caught in a downdraft.

He pancaked the small, twin-engine plane into the snow.

A physician at the Ely Hospital said Stoddard and his wife Helen, 49, suffered serious but not critical injuries.

The other three persons were less seriously hurt. They were the Stoddards' daughter, Mrs. Horace Cumbie, 28; her son, Randy, 6; and Mrs. Joseph V. Lee, 70, of Heyburn, Idaho, Stoddard's aunt.

They were en route to Tucson, Ariz., to help Stoddard's mother celebrate her 80th birthday.

Vote Registration Issue Splits Board

The Pickaway County Board of Elections last night split down party lines on a motion to institute voter-registration throughout the county.

The motion for registration was made by Republican member of the board, George A. Fissell, 705 N. Pickaway St. The resulting ballot found Fissell and Ned Dresbach, 1006 S. Pickaway St., voting for the measure.

The two Democratic members of the board, Ted Corcoran, Route 2, Williamsport, and Virgil May, Route 4, balloted against the move. That leaves the entire issue in the hands of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown. He must cast the deciding vote. If he approves registration, it will automatically go into effect.

Ohio Farmer Arraigned in Wheat Fuss

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A Mount Vernon area farmer, charged with knocking a summons from the hands of a deputy U.S. marshal, is free on $2,000 bond after a preliminary hearing before U.S. Commissioner Robert W. Newlon.

The farmer, Clifford J. Simpson, 51, of Rt. 2, Mount Vernon, was arrested by FBI agents, who charged that he impeded and interfered with Deputy Marshal Hilja McVey of Columbus in the performance of McVey's official duties. He was bound over to U. S. District Court here Tuesday.

U. S. Atty. Thomas S. Schattentfield said Simpson technically has not been charged, although the matter is in the hands of the court. Any number of things could happen to alter the situation before Simpson is arraigned, Schattentfield added.

The summons the deputy marshal was attempting to deliver March 14 is official notice that the federal government intends to sue Simpson for overplanting his wheat quota. A $214 penalty is involved.

The FBI said Simpson knocked the summons from McVey's hands with a corn knife and ordered the official off his property.

The U. S. attorney said Simpson's pending arraignment on the FBI complaint and the government suit for overplanting will be handled separately.

Poindexter Loses High Court Appeal

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Supreme Court today rejected the appeal of Frank Poindexter, 49, of Cincinnati, from his death sentence for the first-degree murder of Mrs. Herschel Hires in Hamilton.

The court set April 18 for his execution in Ohio Penitentiary's electric chair.

The shooting occurred last April 10 in the Hires home during an argument between Poindexter's companion, Hillis Leigh, 42, of Cincinnati, and Hires over a roofing job.

Poindexter claimed he fired after Mrs. Hires began shooting from another room. Leigh is serving a life sentence.

Cracks Appear In GOP Front

Goldwater Sounds Conservative View

WASHINGTON (AP) — New cracks showed up today in the structure of Republican unity Vice President Richard M. Nixon has been laboring so hard to build.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.) outlined in a Senate speech Tuesday a GOP conservative's idea of what the foreign policy program should be. It differed sharply with policies pursued by President Eisenhower.

Goldwater, who heads the Republican Senatorial Campaign Committee, had what he called "hard counsel" for both Eisenhower and Nixon. In some quarters his blast was interpreted as indicating conservatives will demand a strong voice in writing the party platform foreign affairs plank.

Goldwater advocated breaking off relations and negotiations with the Soviet Union. He proposed staging a "test of wills"—which he said could end in war—with the Soviets under conditions and in a location picked by the United States. He urged "risks on our terms, instead of on Communist terms."

Goldwater admittedly aimed his remarks at Eisenhower. He said he had been writing his speech for some time and wanted to get it on the record before the forthcoming summit meeting. He said he would be happy if he impressed Nixon with his ideas.

In the vice president's camp the Goldwater speech apparently was regarded as another symptom of the conservative-liberal split in the party Nixon has been trying to heal.

State Changes Policy, Allows Pair To Adopt Brilliant Child

OLD BRIDGE, N.J. (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Combs went ahead today with plans to adopt their brilliant 4-year-old foster child, Alice Marie, following a surprise state decision clearing the way.

"I'm so completely happy," Combs said after the New Jersey Board of Child Welfare Tuesday abandoned its contention that the girl was too intellectually gifted for her foster parents to raise.

Dark-haired, bright-eyed Alice scampered joyfully for photographers around the trim home—the center of attention although she didn't know why.

Combs credited "the press and public opinion" with bringing about the board's sudden decision on the girl with the near-genius I.Q. of 138.

The state board held a secret meeting in Trenton in which it defended its original position that Alice should be placed for adoption with a family of superior intellectual and financial resources.

But the board added: "We feel that few things are more damaging to a child than to be fought over by its parents in the courts, press and over the air waves. We have therefore decided to allow Mr. and Mrs. Combs to adopt her if they wish."

It was a day mixed with sadness and joy for the 25-year-old, $120-a-week sheet metal worker and his wife. They heard about the board's decision just as they left the funeral for Combs' mother, who died over the weekend.

Combs and his wife had two daughters of their own after Alice Marie came into their home. They originally had signed an agreement that they would surrender the child rather than adopt her. But they grew to love Alice and sought adoption.

The state replied that the Combs' were more interested in watching television than in reading books.

Endorsement Is Given at Press Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower publicly endorsed Vice President Richard M. Nixon today as his choice for the Republican presidential nomination.

Eisenhower made plain at a news conference that he supports Nixon, who at this point has no opposition for the nomination.

The President was asked about about published reports that at a dinner Saturday night he indirectly tapped the vice president as his choice to succeed him in the White House.

The reporter was alluding to the annual dinner of the Gridiron Club, an organization of newsmen. Eisenhower spoke there but the club rules specify that "reporters are never present."

Nevertheless, some news writers who did not attend the dinner got word that Eisenhower had in effect endorsed Nixon. They wrote dispatches saying so.

When the matter of these published reports was brought up today, Eisenhower chuckled and said that at the dinner he actually had been referring to geographical areas at the dinner table.

His suggestion was that he had not actually endorsed Nixon there. But when he went on to say that if anyone is wondering whether he has any preference or bias as to a choice for the GOP presidential nomination, the answer very definitely is yes.

A little later he made it crystal clear that his preference is Nixon.

That happened when a reporter asked whether he had Nixon in mind in talking about whether he had any bias in the matter.

In reply, the President fired a question of his own. It was: Was there any doubt in your mind?

Eisenhower's reference to geographical areas at the dinner table related to the stories drawing the inference he had endorsed Nixon at the Gridiron dinner. The stories said he had suggested that those at the head table move a couple of places — which would have put Nixon in Eisenhower's seat.

At his first news conference in a month, Eisenhower also dealt with these other topics:

SEGREGATION — Commenting on Negroes demonstrating against segregation practices in the South, Eisenhower said he deplores the use of any violence intended to prevent Negroes from exercising their constitutional rights.

So long as such demonstrations are orderly, he sees no objection to them, the President said.

He took the position that violence in any form will not advance the cause for minorities.

His remarks were against the background of big-scale jailing of Negroes who have demonstrated against segregation of the races in restaurants and other places in the South.

The President emphasized that he was talking about what he called orderly marching in an effort to secure constitutional rights. Such marching and demonstration.

Ohio, still punchy from snow-was over Texas on Tuesday moved Columbus, while freezing rain and sleet was reported at Cincinnati and Piketon.

The snow is forecast to spread across the northern two-thirds of Ohio today, but changing to rain over most of the area by afternoon.

The Ohio forecast for the next five days:

Temperatures will average 10 to 12 degrees below normal. Normal high 46 north to 51 south, normal low 28-32. Continued cold with only minor daily changes.
Precipitation will total about three-quarters of an inch in snow flurries Thursday and snow or rain again about Friday or Saturday.

The new storm, powered by easterly winds of 20 to 35 m.p.h., dumped heavy snow from eastern Kansas and northern Missouri as it swept northeastward.

The fresh snow fell atop a covering more than a foot high in many places in Kansas, northern Missouri, southeast Nebraska and southern Iowa.

Heavy snow warnings were issued from northern Missouri northward through Iowa and into southeastern Minnesota and eastward across Illinois and parts of Wisconsin, Indiana and lower Michigan.

Office and factories also shut down

tions throughout the snow belt were hazardous and travel was

Bodies of 13 Men Found by Rescue Teams in Mine

LOGAN, W. Va. (AP) — Until they found the first body, searchers held some hope that the 18 men trapped in Holden coal mine 22 might still be alive.

By early today the bodies of 13 had been hauled out of the gas-filled passageways and the last wisp of hope for the others was gone.

But the search went on.
Somewhere in the dank honeycomb of tunnels were the other members of the digging party imprisoned March 8 by a cave-in and fire nearly three miles from the mine opening.

Two in the original group of 20 scrambled to safety moments after discovery of the fire, apparently touched off when falling slate snapped an electric trolley wire.

Jack Matheson of nearby Holden, W. Va., in the rescue team which found the first 13 bodies, said death by asphyxiation came early for the men in the Island Creek Coal Co. eight miles from the Kentucky border.

It might have been caused by smoke from the fire or by poison coal-gas permeating the abandoned mine section to which the victims had fled.

Passing up three carved-out rooms in which they might have sealed themselves off from the deadly fumes until help came, they had dashed for an opening in the abandoned section. But there was no opening. It had been barred within recent weeks by the crumbling walls and low ceiling it, that part of the mine.

The first body was found sprawled alone. Twelve others were in two nearby heaps.

State and company officials withheld the names of those first found dead until all 18 of the men could be accounted for. Among the 18 was W. K. Donaldson, 55, a company safety inspector.

Rep. Walter H. Moeller (D-Ohio)

the request. Moeller's district includes Lancaster.

Their teacher, Mrs. June J. Ar-questions about Ireland. Among them was: "Are there snakes in Ireland?"

Adrian Raftery, third secretary at the Irish embassy, replied:
"Ireland does not have snakes other, of course, than zoo specimens. The questioner doubtless has in mind the tradition that St.
Patrick is said to have banished snakes from the country."

The Pickaway County Board of Elections last night split down party lines on a motion to institute voter-registration throughout the county.

The motion for registration was made by Republican member of the board, George A. Fis-sell, 705 N. Pickaway St. The resulting ballot found Fissell and Ned Dresbach, 1006 S. Pickaway
St., voting for the measure.

The two Democratic members of the board, Ted Corcoran, Route 2, Williamsport, and Virgil May,
Route 4, balloted against the move.

That leaves the entire issue in the hands of Secretary of State Ted W. Brown. He must cast the deciding vote. If he approves registration, it will automatically go into effect.

IF BROWN votes against registration it will drop unless one or both of the Democratic board members changes his vote. If registration is approved the board would petition the County Common Pleas Court asking it to order the County Commissioners to allot funds for registration.

Last Wednesday the commissioners failed to allot necessary funds to provide for registration due to a lack of a motion. Earlier two of the commissioners indicated they favored registration and would fund the funds.

Estimates set registration at a cost of $1 per voter or approximately $12,000.

Many Republican officials favor registration believing it will eliminate fraud in elections and correct the confused situation in Harrison, Madison and Scioto
Twp., where trailer court residents move in and out daily.

Democrat officials indicate they are against registration because it is an unnecessary expense and would accomplish little because county elections are fairly clean.

Cracks Appear In GOP Front

Goldwater Sounds
Conservative View

WASHINGTON (AP) — New cracks showed up today in the structure or Republican unity Vice President Richard M. Nixon has been laboring so hard to build.

Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.)
outlined in a Senate speech Tuesday a GOP conservative's idea of what the foreign policy program should be. It differed sharply with policies pursued by President Eisenhower.

WASHINGTON (AP)—President
Eisenhower publicly endorsed Vice President Richard M. Nixon today as his choice for the Republican presidential nomination.

Eisenhower made plain at a news conference that he supports Nixon, who at this point has no opposition for the nomination.

The President was asked about about published reports that at a dinner Saturday night he indirectly tapped the vice president as his choice to succeed him in the White House.

The reporter was alluding to the annual dinner of the Gridiron Club, an organization of newsmen. Eisenhower spoke there but the club rules specify that "reporters are never present."

Nevertheless, some news writers who did not attend the dinner got word that Eisenhower had in effect endorsed Nixon. They wrote dispatches saying so.

When the matter of these published reports was brought up today, Eisenhower chuckled and said that at the dinner he actually had been referring to geographical areas at the dinner table.

His suggestion was that he had not actually endorsed Nixon there.
But when he went on to say that if anyone is wondering whether he has any preference or bias as to a choice for the GOP presidential nomination, the answer very definitely is yes.

A little later he made it crystal clear that his preference is Nixon.

That happened when a reporter asked whether he had Nixon in mind in talking about whether he had any bias in the matter.

In reply, the President fired a question of his own. It was: Was there any doubt in your mind?

Eisenhower's reference to geographical areas at the dinner table
related to the stories drawing the inference he had endorsed Nixon at the Gridiron dinner. The stories said he had suggested that those at the head table move a couple of places — which would have put Nixon in Eisenhower's seat.

At his first news conference in a month, Eisenhower also dealt with these other topics:

SEGREGATION — Commenting on Negroes demonstrating against segregation practices in the South, Eisenhower said he deplores the use of any violence intended to prevent Negroes from exercising their constitutional rights.

So long as such demonstrations are orderly, he sees no objection to them, the President said.

He took the position that violence in any form will not ad-

after the session that under the Soviet plan, all stages of disarmament would be supervised by an international control organization and an inspection system. In previous disarmament negotiations, however, Soviet and Western ideas of an adequate control system have been far apart.

In the second stage of the Soviet plan, said Zorin, all armed forces would be disbanded and all foreign bases would be liquidated. This could be completed within two years, he said.

In the third stage all types of nuclear weapons would be destroyed.

The Soviet delegate said his government would insist that all nuclear weapon tests be banned "even before an agreement on disarmament is implemented."

The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union have been negotiating in Geneva for 16 months for a ban on nuclear tests. The talks have deadlocked.

The Western plan was submitted to the conference by British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore on behalf of his own government, the United States, France, Italy and Canada.

Harral Speaks At Lions Club

William Harral, Pickaway Twp. Senior, was guest speaker last night at the Lion's Club dinner-meeting held at the Wardell Party Home, Route 2.

Harral was chosen from 120 delegates to attend the 4-H Club Congress last year. Qualifications to Congress consists of a boy 16 years of age; six years of 4-H; and at least 15 projects. To win this trip he wrote an essay and made an application to the advisory board.

Harral stated that at the congress, delegates discussed social trends; their role in adult life; future vocations; government, state, national and international.

They set up mock government and debated questions confronting the world today.

Slogan of last year's congress was "Youth of Today Will Be the Leaders of Tomorrow", he said.
The Lions Club plans to sponsor the 4-H Club Congress again this year.

Wes Edstrom, head of the nominating committee, announced the nominees for the coming year.

They are Everett Funk, James Peters and Lloyd Wardell, president; Azel Laughlin and Richard Wilson, third vice-president; Nolan Sims and Milton Griest, secretary; Bernard Porter and Charles Smith, treasurer.

Others include Gerald Crites and Samuel Dennis, tail twister; Frank Woodward and Samuel Cook, lion tamer; Ralph Hiltmeyer, Paul McKenzie and Marvin Cook, board of directors.

Each candidate must get a campaign manager and sponsor a campaign by the next meeting in which election of officers will be held.

Civil Righters Work Toward Decisive Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — House civil rights quarterbacks worked for a decisive vote today in favor of a voting referee provision.

Their problem was to keep their bipartisan team members all headed in the same direction.

The Eisenhower administration plan for court-appointed referees to help Negroes or other minority citizens exercise their voting rights was temporarily jettisoned Tuesday.

A liberal Democratic move for a broader proposal picked up surprising strength. It would have substituted for the referees a system using enrolling officers appointed by the president.

Southern opponents of any new civil rights legislation swung into action, seeing a chance to split apart Democratic and Republican supporters of tighter voting laws.

The Southerners threw their weight first one way, then another.

The substitute was voted in as a replacement for the administration plan, then was pitched out. When the players untangled themselves, the Eisenhower plan, in slightly modified form, was again before the House and everybody called time out until today.

Teays Valley Names Citizens Committee Head

The Teays Valley Board of Education met in special session Monday night with its nine-member advisory committee and appointed Mrs. Roland Featheringham, Ashville, as chairman of the district's citizens committee.

Mrs. Featheringham will head the district's four township citizens committees in promoting the $1,900,000 bond issue for the construction and equipping of a consolidated high school.

Monday's meeting also was attended by the respective school principals of the district's schools. The group discussed procedures to follow in connection with promoting the bond issue.

Another meeting of the three groups has been called for Monday to set down necessary campaign procedures.

A plan was introduced for conducting a parents' visitation day at all the schools. It is hoped parents will attend to witness the overcrowded conditions under which Teays Valley students are receiving an education, especially in the high schools.

strating has been recognized as constitutional for many years, Eisenhower said.

CIVIL RIGHTS—Eisenhower reaffirmed his support of the administration's seven-point civil rights bill.

The President asserted he wants the best civil rights bill he can get. Without saying so specifically, he indicated he will press for restoration in the Senate of any section of the administration bill scuttled by the House.

RACIAL CONFERENCES — Eisenhower once again rejected the idea of a White House conference dealing with racial strife, but he said every city in the South ought to arrange for conferences to deal with this problem.

There already is too much Washington interference in matters which should be handled locally, the President said.

POLITICS—Eisenhower left the door open for an invitation from the Republican National Committee for him to make the keynote address at the party's national convention opening July 25 in Chicago.

In reply to a question, the President said he has not at this time been invited to make the address. He said that if he is asked to help the party in any way, he certainly will do so. But he added there are certain limits to a President's activity in this area.

Eisenhower was asked whether he agrees with predictions by some Democrats that Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts will win the Democratic presidential nomination. One such prediction has been attributed to Paul M. Butler, the Democratic national chairman.

With a smile, Eisenhower replied he was going to make no predictions regarding the outcome on the other side.

As for demands from some Democrats that Butler resign if he actually did predict the outcome in his party, Eisenhower chuckled and said that if the Democrats have troubles, he is not going to help them out.

Teays Valley Federal Aid Hits $20,224

The Teays Valley School District has been granted $20,224 from the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare for assistance in current expenditures.

Total amount to be received by the district is $26,966. The balance will be sent in June. The funds are the Federal Government's share of educating the children of federal employed families.

According to Earl R. Gregg, executive head of the Teays Valley District, a total of 240 children of federal employed parents were attending Teays Valley schools last semester.

Last year the figure was 216 children. The government's share of the education expenses is figured into district by utilities and the state from the total cost per child and paying the balance.

COST OF educating one Teays Valley student is approximately $300. Utilities pay nearly $150 or half of the cost and the state contributes another $50 under its state foundation fund. The government pays Teays Valley between $100 to $110.

Basis of all payments and computations are the individual school districts. Gregg said today that most children whose parents are federal employed pay their share of school costs, whether they live in trailers or not.

He said the families not paying their children's were those living in house trailers who were not federal employed.

School districts have to apply for federal aid. Gregg said this is a complicated procedure requiring considerable paper work on filling out extremely technical forms, taking two days to complete.

Most federal employed families are located at Lockbourne Air Force, both civilians or airmen, at North American, Columbus, and several construction companies working on federal projects.

Government figures are based on individual children, regardless of whether there are one or five in a federal employed family.

Mount Washington in New Hampshire is 6,293 feet high.

after the session that under the Soviet plan, all stages of disarmament would be supervised by an international control organization and an inspection system. In previous disarmament negotiations, however, Soviet and Western ideas of an adequate control system have been far apart.

In the second stage of the Soviet plan, said Zorin, all armed forces would be disbanded and all foreign bases would be liquidated. This could be completed within two years, he said.

In the third stage all types of nuclear weapons would be destroyed.

The Soviet delegate said his government would insist that all nuclear weapon tests be banned "even before an agreement on disarmament is implemented."

The United States, Britain and the Soviet Union have been negotiating in Geneva for 16 months for a ban on nuclear tests. The talks have deadlocked.

The Western plan was submitted to the conference by British Minister of State David Ormsby-Gore on behalf of his own government, the United States, France, Italy and Canada.

Zorin threw cold water on the Western proposal at Tuesday's opening meeting, calling it unrealistic and impractical.

Slogan of last year's congress was "Youth of Today Will Be the Leaders of Tomorrow," he said.

The Lions Club plans to sponsor the 4-H Club Congress again this year.

Civil Righters

Decisive Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — House civil rights quarterbacks worked for a decisive vote today in favor of a voting referee provision.

Their problem was to keep their bipartisan team members all headed in the same direction.

The Eisenhower administration plan for court-appointed referees to help Negroes or other minority citizens exercise their voting rights was temporarily jettisoned Tuesday.

A liberal Democratic move for a broader proposal picked up surprising strength. It would have substituted for the referees a system using enrolling officers appointed by the president.

Southern opponents of any new civil rights legislation swung into action, seeing a chance to split apart Democratic and Republican supporters of tighter voting laws.

The Southerners threw their weight first one way, then another.

The substitute was voted in as a replacement for the administration plan, then was pitched out.

When the players untangled themselves, the Eisenhower plan, in slightly modified form, was again before the House and everybody called time out until today.

Teays Valley Names Citizens Committee Head

The Teays Valley Board of Education met in special session Monday night with its nine-member advisory committee and appointed Mrs. Roland Featheringham, Ashville, as chairman of the district's citizens committee.

Mrs. Featheringham will head the district's four township citizens committees in promoting the $1,900,000 bond issue for the construction and equipping of a consolidated high school.

Monday's meeting also was attended by the respective school principals of the district's schools. The group discussed procedures to follow in connection with promoting the bond issue.

Another meeting of the three groups has been called for Monday to proceed.

A plan was introduced for conducting a parents' visitation day at all the schools. It is hoped parents will attend to witness the overcrowded conditions under which Teays Valley students are receiving an education, especially in the high schools.

The trading floor of the New York Stock Exchange is one of the city's most popular spectator attractions. The convention bureau estimates 450,000 persons will visit the exchange this year.

In reply to a question, the President said he has not at this time been invited to make the address. He said that if he is asked to help the party in any way, he certainly will do so. But he added there are certain limits to a President's activity in this area.

Eisenhower was asked whether he agrees with predictions by some Democrats that Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts will win the Democratic presidential nomination. One such prediction has been attributed to Paul M. Butler, the Democratic national chairman.

With a smile, Eisenhower replied he was going to make no predictions regarding the outcome on the other side.

As for demands from some Democrats that Butler resign if he actually did predict the outcome in his party, Eisenhower chuckled and said that if the Democrats have troubles, he is not going to help them out.

The society decided to serve at the annual athletic banquet which will be held in the near future. Plans for an honor roll banquet were approved, along with plans to purchase pins for the National Honor Society.

A panel discussion was held on the society's Reading Program, with William Wolfe serving as moderator. Panel members answering questions were Mrs. Ned Walker, Mrs. Vica Dillon, Mrs. Del Renick and Robert Seward.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria by Mrs. Dan Grant, Mr. and Mrs. John Diffendal, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Karshner, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Himrod, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Goode, Mrs. Nelson Walters, Mr. and Mrs. Chester McClelland and Mrs. Lillie Riggan.

Teays Valley Federal Aid Hits $20,224

The Teays Valley School District has been granted $20,224 from the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare for assistance in current expenditures.

Total amount to be received by the district is $28,966. The balance will be sent in June. The funds are the Federal Government's share of educating the children of federal employed families.

According to Earl R. Gregg, executive head of the Teays Valley District, a total of 240 children of federal employed parents were attending Teays Valley schools last semester.

Last year the figure was 216 children. The government's share of the education expenses is figured into district by utilities and the state from the total cost per child and paying the balance.

COST OF educating one Teays Valley student is approximately $300. Utilities pay nearly $150 or half of the cost and the state contributes another $50 under its state foundation fund. The government pays Teays Valley between $100 to $110.

Basal of all payments and computations are the individual school districts. Gregg said today that most children whose parents are federal employed pay their share of school costs, whether they live in trailers or not.

He said the families not paying their children's was were those living in house trailers who were not federal employed.

School districts have to apply for federal aid. Gregg said this is a complicated procedure requiring considerable paper work on filling out extremely technical forms, taking two days to complete.

Most federal employed families are located at Lockbourne Air Force, both civilians or airmen, at North American, Columbus, and several construction companies working on federal projects.

Government figures are based on individual children, regardless of whether there are one or five in a federal employed family.

Mount Washington in New Hampshire is 6,290 feet high.

Dollar Begins To Strengthen

That the dollar is stronger in international ratings than it was at the beginning of the year is good news. Not long ago there was talk in world financial circles that the big deficit in U. S. balance of payments might force drastic action. One suggestion was for a sharp devaluation of the dollar by increasing the price of gold.

Powerful banking interests centering in Switzerland keep all currencies under constant survey. When the times look unpromising, then speculate against these currencies, putting them in difficulties. The British pound and the French and Belgian francs were among those under pressure in the past.

Last summer there was much talk among international bankers that the dollar faced almost certain devaluation as a hedge against unfavorable trade balances. Such discussion has now subsided.

The principal reason is that the U. S. government took tough financial steps to hold the budget down, tighten money and control credit through high interest rates.

These are the tools the bankers expect a nation to use in battling disastrous inflation.

An interesting appraisal in Europe is that the U. S. is not pricing its goods out of world markets, thus threatening still wider adverse trade balances. The European view is that American productivity and efficiency are so much greater that American goods can compete despite greatly higher wage costs. This theory will face new tests during the current year.

But there is nothing wrong with the dollar that sound governmental practices will not cure.

Time To Start Working

Persons outside the industry would not expect to find words with sharp teeth in the annual report of the Advertising Council to its members. Annual reports are not noted for these.

However, Theodore S. Repplier, president of the council, apparently is not the sort to soothe his fellows in the advertising fraternity with platitudes and generalizations. In his annual report he says:

"At a time when the world situation cries for us to pull up our socks, tighten our belts and do some realistic planning and working, the country as a whole is ducking its duties as much as possible."

Repplier said he believes a change for the better in American attitudes can be brought about. He suggests that the Advertising Council could help if funds were made available — possibly from foundations.

It will take more than money and advertisements, of course. It will take the combined effort of businessmen, professional men, national leaders, community leaders, teachers and everyone in a position to influence public attitudes. But acknowledging that there is a problem is the first step, and the Advertising Council president has taken it for his industry.

Drugs Prescribed for Trees

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Tree doctors haven't gotten around yet to prescribing aspirin for an arthritic elm in your backyard, but don't bet that they won't. In the Pacific Northwest they are now successfully using antibiotic drugs to treat ailing pine forests.

Odd laws: Massachusetts once passed legislation making it illegal for anyone to lounge on the shelves of a bakery.

Your blood is not only thicker than water. It is six times thicker. If you don't like saluting, join the Army and save your arm. The Army has only 11.5 officers out of every 100 military personnel. The comparable officer figure in the Air Force is 15.6.

It is wise to be wary of snap judgments. But, according to a study made by a team of psychologists, the longer it takes you to make a decision, the greater the chance you'll make a mistake.

The long and short of it: Abe Lincoln, at 6-foot-4, was the tallest U.S. President. James Madison, exactly a foot shorter, was the smallest.

Who was the first President to live in the White House? It was John Adams, who moved into the still unfinished structure in 1800. His wife strung up the family laundry in what is now known as the East Room.

Need for Foreign Experts

By George Sokolsky

It is necessary, because of commitments of the United States, that a comparatively large number of Americans live in foreign countries. They are there in many positions, some governmental, some civilian. It is to be assumed that many of them have become expert in particular countries. Some speak one or more foreign languages.

It takes many years to become expert about anything. I know, from personal experience, that many who write about Russia and China, know nothing about the subject. A short tourist visit does not make an expert. Often it produces a concealed, self-assertive reservoir of misinformation.

So along comes Major General William T. Hefley, commander of the Air Material Command, European Area, who is of the opinion that an American "who prefers" living in foreign countries more than four years is not a good citizen and should turn in his passport.

Why four years and not three or five years? How does the General measure such qualifications in time? How long, for instance, does it take an American to study Arabic and the interrelations of Egypt and Syria vis-a-vis Israel and Jordan, or Iraq and Iran?

Does the General know how long it takes a man to become expert in Pushtu and to have a working knowledge of the relations between the Pathans and the Pakistanis and why the Benjaminites are a problem in the Khyber Pass?

I pick two areas where the United States is deeply involved — so much so that the President of the United States, under extremely difficult circumstances, visited Kabul. One real advantage that Russia has had over us in the Cold War is not only that the Russians carefully trained experts for each country but gave the experts status. General Hefley said:

"Most of the people who don't want to go back home don't have the slightest interest in the U. S. except for the high American pay they receive."

Of course, this is not remotely true. I have known hundreds of Americans who lived in various parts of Asia. There were men and women in business who received excellent compensation and there were missionaries, teachers and doctors who received almost no monetary satisfaction but found compensation in their services to God and man.

All were fanatically patriotic Americans, more so than those who stayed back home. They were competitive in their patriotism. And many of them, over the years, did jobs for the United States, which brought no titles, no honors, no pay other than the satisfaction of serving.

The General's difficulty arose from the fact that when he sought to make savings and improvements in efficiency, he found a lot of overseas Americans who can live cheaper in Europe, save their money and avoid taxes. He is sound in going after such folks but he should differentiate between them and those who are doing extremely hard work, serving this country in a program of world leadership and world knowledge which our government initiated. The General said:

"I found that when I wanted to cut out wasteful, unnecessary operations, such as warehouse depots, I first had to get rid of the civilians who had lived overseas so long that they had lost touch with American life."

All this is sound and correct except that we require experts in many fields and those who are sent abroad by the government should have the responsibility of making themselves experts of making themselves expert.

For instance, if General Hefley had said that an American in the service of the government, who in four years does not have a working knowledge of each language of each country where he has been stationed, should be brought home, he would be correct. He might also have stated that if such persons could not pass examinations in some fields of history, literature, social customs, etc., of these countries, they should be brought home, he would have been correct.

For the United States, it is a total loss to give an American the monetary advantages of working abroad, unless that person and his wife and children prepare themselves to be of service in some degree of expertise for the United States.

Time-servers and featherbedders have no value in the enterprise of even peaceful co-existence with Soviet Russia. What we require are carefully trained men and women in a vast variety of fields.

21 Highway Aides Going to Parley

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Highway Department is sending 21 of its top officials to a conference in Chicago this week at a cost of $1,534. But a spokesman says: "This doesn't mean the department will close down until they get back."

The Thursday-Saturday conference is the 51st annual meeting of the Mississippi Valley Conference of State Highway Departments. Highway Director Everett S. Preston, who isn't staying the entire time, says it is one of the most important his men could attend because it gets down to brass tacks on highway problems, new ideas from other states and the federal aid highway program which is vital to Ohio.

Officials from the Federal Bureau of Public Roads and Highway departments in 13 other states will attend.

KAY FRASER, Toronto socialite and beauty queen, tells of a Canadian prep school whose band failed to satisfy the trustees. So they hired a formidable band master from London, whose military bearing and bristling mustache promptly scared the bejabbers out of the thirty-four lads in the band.

Came the day of the first home football game, and the bandmaster was still totally dissatisfied with the progress—or lack of same—his charges had made. Before they marched out on the field, he gave them a final admonition. "Men," he barked, "remember there are thirty-four of you. So when I give the signal, if you're not sure you can play the piece, fake it. The others will cover you."

The band struggled onto the field. Thirty-four musicians raised their instruments. The band leader blew his whistle—and not one sound was heard!

First Aid for Burn Victims

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
The danger of suffering burns is an everyday hazard, especially for our children.

I'm sure you try to do everything in your power to prevent such tragedies. You may be careful with your cigarettes, you don't let youngsters play with matches and you are generally conscious of the dangers of fire.

Yet, to use a well-worn cliché, accidents do happen.

In case one happens in your home, I'd like you to be prepared to administer a few basic first aid measures.

Your main concern until the doctor comes should be to relieve pain, prevent contamination and infection and, in the case of serious burns, to counteract shock. The rest is up to the doctor.

Fortunately, the vast majority of burns will be of a relatively minor nature. For those in which the skin remains unbroken, there is no danger of infection. Thus, you can concentrate your efforts on relieving the pain.

There are many burn ointments on the market. Most of them, I suppose, are all right to use on burns in which the skin is not broken. Or you can easily mix your own ointment by making a simple thin paste of baking soda, water and vaseline.

Smear it over the burned area and then cover it with a clean handkerchief or gauze. This, incidentally, can also be used as a remedy to treat a bad case of sunburn.

In cases in which the burn is more severe and the skin is broken, send for a doctor at once. Make the victim lie down. Keep his head low and don't allow him to become cold. This will help alleviate shock.

Remove loose clothing from the injured area. Some of the material may be stuck to the skin. In this case, cut around it, but do not pull any clothing that may be clinging to the burned area. That is a job for the doctor.

Chances are that you can summon a doctor or an ambulance quickly. If for any reason medical help is not immediately available, you can cut some clean strips of linen and dip them into a mixture of warm water and Epsom salts or baking soda.

Make the solution by adding one cup of either the baking soda or the Epsom salts to one quart of water.

Then gently place the wet strips on top of the burned area. You can keep them moistened by adding more of the solution. Cover the strips with some warm dry material.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Southern fight against a civil rights bill and the 10-nation disarmament talks which opened in Geneva Tuesday have one thing in common: a filibuster.

The disarmament talks are just the latest in a series. Some of the people doing the talking at Geneva are new. But the spirit is the same. The West and the Communist world got into a cat-and-dog fight right at the start.

The West sent the Communists a copy of its disarmament plan Monday, on the eve of the opening so they could examine it. They did. Valerian Zorin, the Soviet deputy foreign minister, opened the talks by denouncing the plan. It can hardly be called new. It's a collection of previous Western proposals based on this central idea: that before there can be any real disarmament there must be a fool-proof inspection system to prevent cheating.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev presented the Communist plan last Sept. 18 when he was in this country and addressed the United Nations. He wanted disarmament in four years. The West offered no time limit.

But Khrushchev talked of disarmament first and a control system next. The West wouldn't buy that. It isn't likely to buy it now. West's proposed inspection system The Soviets have looked on as a kind of spy network.

So this much is predictable: 1. The two sides will haggle, getting nowhere, at least until the end of the summit meeting which opens in Paris May 16.

2. Since there is great skepticism the summit will accomplish anything, the disarmament talks are hardly apt to pick up speed after the summit.

3. Judging from past performances, the two sides may still be talking a year from now.

It's important for both—in the eyes of the rest of the world—not to slam or appear to slam a door on disarmament altogether.

So what seems reasonable to expect is a group of grown men haranguing one another days on end, with neither side really budging.

Perhaps the best thing that can be said for the disarmament talks at this point is that at least the West and the Communist world are sitting down together, talking, which seems to be an improvement on previous frozen-faced silence.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

Those Difficult Days

Deafness In Children

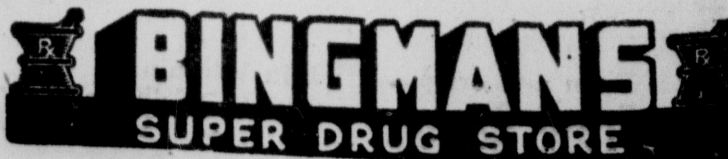

Q. Every month I go through two or three days of absolute misery. I have tried everything under the sun. Can't anything be done for this periodic pain?

A. Most women probably have some periodic discomfort but consider it normal and pay little attention to it. Although dysmenorrhea (difficult or painful menstruation) can be caused by specific disorders, in most cases no cause can be found. If the doctor who examines you fails to pinpoint the cause, don't assume that he is going to say, "It's all in your head." The pain is there and no one knows it better than the sufferer. The first step in getting lasting relief of the "causeless" type of dysmenorrhea is often difficult for the victim because it may involve disregarding folkore and unlearning false ideas about a normal and natural function. Menstruation is not a state of ill health although terms commonly applied to it often imply illness. Some women have the false notion that menstruation is some sort of purgation which rids the body of poisons or that it is an indication of inferiority. Talk things out with your doctor.

Q. Our 3-year-old is mentally okay but doctors say she is completely deaf. Are there any books or pamphlets that will help us with our problem?

A. There is a great deal of fine material available for the parents of deaf children. A very useful booklet is the one entitled "If You Have a Deaf Child," a collection of hints and useful information for parents of pre-school-age deaf children. It is published by the Illinois Annual School for Mothers of Deaf Children by the University of Illinois Press, Urbana. Information about the Annual School can be obtained from the Division of Special Education, Office of the State Superintendent of Public Education, Springfield, Ill. Parents faced with this problem may secure additional information concerning available material by writing to Science Editors, P. O. Box 396, Madison Square Station, New York 10, N. Y.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y., will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

Time To Start Working

Persons outside the industry would not expect to find words with sharp teeth in the annual report of the Advertising Council to its members. Annual reports are not noted for these.

However, Theodore S. Repplier, president of the council, apparently is not the sort to soothe his fellows in the advertising fraternity with platitudes and generalizations. In his annual report he says:

"At a time when the world situation cries for us to pull up our socks, tighten our belts and do some realistic planning and working, the country as a whole is ducking its duties as much as possible."

Repplier said he believes a change for the better in American attitudes can be brought about. He suggests that the Advertising Council could help if funds were made available — possibly from foundations.

It will take more than money and advertisements, of course. It will take the combined effort of businessmen, professional men, national leaders, community leaders, teachers and everyone in a position to influence public attitudes. But acknowledging that there is a problem is the first step, and the Advertising Council president has taken it for his industry.

Drugs Prescribed for Trees

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Tree doctors haven't gotten around yet to prescribing aspirin for an arthritic elm in your backyard, but don't bet that they won't. In the Pacific Northwest they are now successfully using antibiotic drugs to treat ailing pine forests.

Women probably are more wide awake than men. Most men blink once every three seconds, most women only once every four seconds.

Odd laws: Massachusetts once passed legislation making it illegal for anyone to lounge on the shelves of a bakery.

Your blood is not only thicker than water. It is six times thicker. If you don't like saluting, join the Army and save your arm. The Army has only 11.5 officers out of every 100 military personnel. The comparable officer figure in the Air Force is 15.6.

What's-in-a-name dept.: Mrs. Henny Eggy owns a poultry farm at Kimberly, British Columbia.

Our quotable notables: Says

Somerset Maugham, "In France a man who has ruined himself for a woman is generally regarded with sympathy and admiration; there is a feeling that it was worthwhile, and the man who has done it feels even a certain pride in the fact. In England he will be thought, and think himself, a damned fool!"

It is wise to be wary of snap judgments. But, according to a study made by a team of psychologists, the longer it takes you to make a decision, the greater the chance you'll make a mistake.

The long and short of it: Abe Lincoln, at 6-foot-4, was the tallest U. S. President. James Madison, exactly a foot shorter, was the smallest.

Who was the first President to live in the White House? It was John Adams, who moved into the still unfinished structure in 1800. His wife strung up the family laundry in what is now known as the East Room.

The only tattooed lady we ever remember seeing was in a circus. But it is estimated that 3 million American women, as well as 17 million men, are tattooed. Wonder what they pick as their favorite design?

Definition: "A celebrity," notes the Catholic Digest, "is a person who works hard for years to become well known—and then wears dark glasses to avoid being recognized."

Executive signs: On the desk of Irving J. Bottner, president of Esquire Shoe Polish: "When you throw mud at somebody, you're the one who's losing ground."

How to calm a child: An Australian physician says crying babies can be soothed more quickly by an up-and-down motion than by either rocking or swinging them. (Just tie a rope under baby's arms, mother, and run her up and down like a yo-yo!)

Don't blame your head for your headaches. About 95 per cent of headaches are caused by something wrong elsewhere in the body. (A fellow we know claims 98 per cent of his headaches stem from his wife's jawbone.)

It was Socrates who declared, "No evil can happen to a good man, either in life or after death."

By George Sokolsky

It is necessary, because of commitments of the United States, that a comparatively large number of Americans live in foreign countries. They are there in many positions, some governmental, some civilian. It is to be assumed that many of them have become expert in particular countries. Some speak one or more foreign languages.

It takes many years to become expert about anything. I know, from personal experience, that many who write about Russia and China, know nothing about the subject. A short tourist visit does not make an expert. Often it produces a concealed, self-assertive reservoir of misinformation.

So along comes Major General William T. Hefley, commander of the Air Materiel Command, European Area, who is of the opinion that an American "who prefers" living in foreign countries more than four years is not a good citizen and should turn in his passport.

Why four years and not three or five years? How does the General measure such qualifications in time? How long, for instance, does it take an American to study Arabic and the interrelations of Egypt and Syria vis-a-vis Israel and Jordan, or Iraq and Iran?

Does the General know how long it takes a man to become expert in Pushtu and to have a working knowledge of the relations between the Pathans and the Pakistani and why the Benjaminites are a problem in the Khyber Pass?

I pick two areas where the United States is deeply involved — so much so that the President of the United States, under extremely difficult circumstances, visited Kabul. One real advantage that Russia has had over us in the Cold War is not only that the Russians carefully trained experts for each country but gave the experts status. General Hefley said:

"Most of the people who don't want to go back home don't have the slightest interest in the U. S. except for the high American pay they receive."

Of course, this is not remotely true. I have known hundreds of Americans who lived in various parts of Asia. There were men and women in business who received excellent compensation and there were missionaries, teachers and doctors who received almost no monetary satisfaction but found compensation in their services to God and man.

All were fanatically patriotic Americans, more so than those who stayed back home. They were competitive in their patriotism. And many of them, over the years, did jobs for the United States, which brought no titles, no honors, no pay other than the satisfaction of serving.

The General's difficulty arose from the fact that when he sought to make savings and improvements in efficiency, he found a lot of overseas Americans who can live cheaper in Europe, save their money and avoid taxes. He is sound in going after such folks but he should differentiate between them and those who are doing extremely hard work, serving this country in a program of world leadership and world knowledge which our government initiated. The General said:

"I found that when I wanted to cut out wasteful, unnecessary operations, such as warehouses, I first had to get rid of the civilians who had lived overseas so long that they had lost touch with American life."

For instance, if General Hefley had said that an American in the service of the government, who in four years does not have a working knowledge of each language of each country where he has been stationed, should be brought home, he would be correct. He might also have stated that if such persons could not pass examinations in some fields of history, literature, social customs, etc., of these countries, they should be brought home, he would have been correct.

For the United States, it is a total loss to give an American the monetary advantages of working abroad, unless that person and his wife and children prepare themselves to be of service in some degree of expertise for the United States.

Time-servers and featherbedders have no value in the enterprise of even peaceful co-existence with Soviet Russia. What we require are carefully trained men and women in a vast variety of fields.

21 Highway Aides Going to Parley

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The State Highway Department is sending 21 of its top officials to a conference in Chicago this week at a cost of $1,534. But a spokesman says: "This doesn't mean the department will close down until they get back."

The Thursday-Saturday conference is the 51st annual meeting of the Mississippi Valley Conference of State Highway Departments. Highway Director Everett S. Preston, who isn't staying the entire time, says it is one of the most important men could attend because it gets down to brass tacks on highway problems, new ideas from other states and the federal aid highway program which is vital to Ohio.

Officials from the Federal Bureau of Public Roads and highway departments in 13 other states will attend.

KAY FRASER, Toronto socialite and beauty queen, tells of a Canadian prep school whose band failed to satisfy the trustees. So they hired a formidable band master from London, whose military bearing and bristling mustache promptly scared the bejabbers out of the thirty-four lads in the band.

Came the day of the first home football game, and the bandmaster was still totally dissatisfied with the progress — or lack of same — his charges had made. Before they marched out on the field, he gave them a final admonition. "Men," he barked, "remember there are thirty-four of you. So when I give the signal, if you're not sure you can play the piece, fake it. The others will cover you."

The band struggled onto the field. Thirty-four musicians raised their instruments. The band leader blew his whistle — and not one sound was heard!

Irish playwright Brendan Behan was asked what reform he'd institute first if he found himself president of the world. Unhesitatingly, he replied, "I'd reduce the price of good liquor!"

First Aid for Burn Victims

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.
The danger of suffering burns is an everyday hazard, especially for our children.

I'm sure you try to do everything in your power to prevent such tragedies. You may be careful with your cigarettes, you don't let youngsters play with matches and you are generally conscious of the dangers of fire.

Yet, to use a well-worn cliché, accidents do happen.

In case one happens in your home, I'd like you to be prepared to administer a few basic first aid measures.

Your main concern until the doctor comes should be to relieve pain, prevent contamination and infection and, in the case of serious burns, to counteract shock. The rest is up to the doctor.

Fortunately, the vast majority of burns will be of a relatively minor nature. For those in which the skin remains unbroken, there is no danger of infection. Thus, you can concentrate your efforts on relieving the pain.

There are many burn ointments on the market. Most of them, I suppose, are all right to use on burns in which the skin is not broken. Or you can easily mix your own ointment by making a simple thin paste of baking soda, water and vaseline.

Smear it over the burned area and then cover it with a clean handkerchief or gauze. This, incidentally, can also be used as a remedy to treat a bad case of sunburn.

In cases in which the burn is more severe and the skin is broken, send for a doctor at once. Make the victim lie down. Keep his head low and don't allow him to become cold. This will help alleviate shock.

Remove loose clothing from the injured area. Some of the material may be stuck to the skin. In this case, cut around it, but do not pull any clothing that may be clinging to the burned area. That is a job for the doctor.

Chances are that you can summon a doctor or an ambulance quickly. If for any reason medical help is not immediately available, you can cut some clean strips of linen and dip them into a mixture of warm water and Epsom salts or baking soda.

Make the solution by adding one cup of either the baking soda or the Epsom salts to one quart of water.

Then gently place the wet strips on top of the burned area. You can keep them moistened by adding more of the solution. Cover the strips with some warm dry material.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Southern fight against a civil rights bill and the 10-nation disarmament talks which opened in Geneva Tuesday have one thing in common: a filibuster.

The disarmament talks are just the latest in a series. Some of the people doing the talking at Geneva are new. But the spirit is the same. The West and the Communist world got into a cat-and-dog fight right at the start.

The West sent the Communists a copy of its disarmament plan Monday, on the eve of the opening so they could examine it. They did. Valerian Zorin, the Soviet deputy foreign minister, opened the talks by denouncing the plan. It can hardly be called new. It's a collection of previous Western proposals based on this central idea: that before there can be any real disarmament there must be a fool-proof inspection system to prevent cheating.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev presented the Communist plan last Sept. 18 when he was in this country and addressed the United Nations. He wanted disarmament in four years. The West offered no time limit.

But Khrushchev talked of disarmament first and a control system next. The West wouldn't buy that. It isn't likely to buy it now. West's proposed inspection system The Soviets have looked on as a kind of spy network.

So this much is predictable: 1. The two sides will haggle, getting nowhere, at least until the end of the summit meeting which opens in Paris May 16.

2. Since there is great skepticism the summit will accomplish anything, the disarmament talks are hardly apt to pick up speed after the summit.

3. Judging from past performance, ances, the two sides may still be talking a year from now.

It's important for both—in the eyes of the rest of the world—not to slam or appear to slam a door on disarmament altogether.

So what seems reasonable to expect is a group of grown men haranguing one another days on end, with neither side really budging.

Perhaps the best thing that can be said for the disarmament talks at this point is that at least the West and the Communist world are sitting down together, talking, which seems to be an improvement on previous frozen silence.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT

Deafness in Children

Q. Every month I go through two or three days of absolute misery. I have tried everything under the sun. Can't anything be done for this periodic pain?

A. Most women probably have some periodic discomfort but consider it normal and pay little attention to it. Although dysmenorrhea (difficult or painful menstruation) can be caused by specific disorders, in most cases no cause can be found. If the doctor who examines you fails to pinpoint the cause, don't assume that he is going to say, "It's all in your head." The pain is there and no one knows it better than the sufferer. The first step in getting lasting relief of the "causeless" type of dysmenorrhea is often difficult for the victim because it may involve disregarding folklore and unlearning false ideas about a normal and natural function. Menstruation is not a state of ill health although terms commonly applied to it often imply illness. Some women have the false notion that menstruation is some sort of purgation which rids the body of poisons or that it is an indication of inferiority. Talk things out with your doctor.

You may be surprised by the results.

Q. Our 3-year-old is mentally okay but doctors say she is completely deaf. Are there any books or pamphlets that will help us with our problem?

A. There is a great deal of fine material available for the parents of deaf children. A very useful booklet is the one entitled "If You Have a Deaf Child," a collection of hints and useful information for parents of pre-school-age deaf children. It is published by the Illinois Annual School for Mothers of Deaf Children by the University of Illinois Press, Urbana. Information about the Annual School can be obtained from the Division of Special Education, Office of the State Superintendent of Public Education, Springfield, Ill. Parents faced with this problem may secure additional information concerning available material by writing to Science Editors, P. O. Box 396, Madison Square Station, New York 10, N. Y.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Science Editors, P. O. Box 396, Madison Sq. Sta., N. Y. 10, N. Y., will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

Ohioans Jailed In New York Stock Deal

NEW YORK (AP)—Two Ohioans are among six men indicted by a federal grand jury Monday on charges of conspiring to manipulate the market in the common stock of Bellanca Corp. and to sell unregistered shares of Bellanca.

The firm has been delisted on the American Stock Exchange.

The Ohioans are Sidney L. Albert of Akron, former president of Bellanca and its largest stockholder, and Shiah Arsham, of Cleveland, a former Bellanca director.

Albert was named in 44 counts of the 45-count indictment, including five counts charging him with perjury himself before the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Assistant U.S. Atty. Stephen E. Kaufman said those charged had conspired to "paint the tape"—bid up the price on a stock to create a false impression of activity and attract new buyers.

Kaufman said Albert was the principal Bellanca stockholder in 1955 when its securities reached a high of $50.50 a share. The stock now sells over the counter for 25 cents a share, Kaufman added.

If convicted of the conspiracy charges, each defendant could receive a maximum of five years in prison and a $10,000 fine, and if found guilty of manipulation, up to a $10,000 fine and two years in prison.

Albert, if found guilty of perjury, could receive up to five years and a $2,000 fine on each of the five counts.

FINCH NO CINCH — A male juror threatened to throw a female juror out a window, and another male juror passed proposition notes to female jurors during deliberations of the Finch-Tregoff jury in Los Angeles, juror Mrs. Genevieve Lang tells reporters. But for what she calls the obstinacy of two jurors "... we would have settled for second degree on Finch and freed Carole." Now a new trial must be held for Dr. Bernard Finch and Carole Tregoff in the killing of his wife Barbara.

Marie Curie Is Discussed At Guild No. 12 Session

Madame Marie Curie was the subject of a talk given by Mrs. George Macklin at the regular monthly meeting of Berger Hospital Guild No. 12 Monday evening in the home of Mrs. Jeannette Armstrong, Dunmore Road.

Members of the guild discuss a famous woman each month. Mrs. Macklin gave a biographical sketch of the life of Madame Curie, the physicist who is best known for her discovery of radium.

The daughter of a professor of physics, Mrs. Macklin explained the difficulties encountered by this famous daughter in first acquiring an education and then pursuing the elusive element which was later called radium because of the rays emitting from the experimental materials.

Madame Curie, the speaker said, was born Many Sklodowska in Warsaw when Poland was suffering from the tyranny of the Russian Czar. Marie helped her older sister through school by working as a governess. When she finally arrived at the Sorbonne in Paris to study Marie soon met and married Pierre Curie who worked with her on many of her experiments. Radium was so expensive that Madame Curie had difficulty obtaining it to continue her experiments. But on two visits to America Mrs. Macklin said the people gave her a gram worth more than $100,000. She shared in two Nobel prizes and died in 1934 from the effects of too much exposure to radium.

Mrs. William Defenbaugh presided during the business session at which new officers were elected. Mrs. Armstrong was named chairman, Mrs. Robert Schmidt, vice-chairman; Mrs. Eldon DeLong, secretary, and Mrs. Robert Bower, treasurer. The group also made tentative plans for another hickory nut cake sale to be held at Easter if enough nuts are available.

The Guild will meet in the home of Mrs. Sterling Poling, Saltcreek Twp. in April.

The evening closed with the serving of a dessert course by the hostess.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Respect Her 'Narrow' Mind

DEAR ABBY: I am a respected business man. I have in my employ an attractive young woman who is divorced. When I go home in the evening I pass her apartment.

My wife says that under no circumstances should I take this woman to work or give her a ride home. I feel that my wife is being very small and narrow-minded. These orders came as a result of my giving this woman a ride home one evening. I have so far respected my wife's wishes. Do you think she is being fair?

NAMELESS
DEAR NAMELESS: You owe your wife more than you owe your employer. Respect her "small and narrow-minded" wishes.

DEAR ABBY: Dr. A. has been our family physician for years. We are not satisfied with his services and would like to switch to Dr. B. I have heard that it is unethical for a doctor to treat another doctor's patient. Can you tell me how to go about making this change? No one in the family is ill at this time.

DISSATISFIED
DEAR DISSATISFIED: First, tell Dr. A. that you are dissatisfied with his services and want to make a change. Then go to Dr. B. and tell him that you were formerly Dr. A's patient, but informed him that you were making a change.

DEAR ABBY: Please, please, please print this. It's too late for me, but maybe it will help someone else.

I had a nice home and good parents. Of course I thought they were bossy and old-fashioned because they didn't want me to go with a certain boy of a different faith who had a bad reputation. So I listened to my boy friend and didn't let my parents push me around. I lied and cheated and finally married the guy. He "understood" me. My parents didn't. How dumb can a 23-year-old girl get?

Three months ago I buried my mother. I broke her heart, Abby. She just gave up. I was her only daughter and I betrayed her. I am still married and now who do you think is pushing me around? My idol, who taught me how to lie and cheat is now lying and cheating on me. If I ever have children, I pray to God I never have a daughter. My message is, Girls, listen to your parents. They love you.

KNOW IT ALL

DEAR ABBY: Three of us girls would like to know if you think it is wrong to neck with a boy in the show. We have asked our mothers and they said if they saw us kissing a boy in the show it would be the last movie we would ever see. Are they old-fashioned or are we too young? We are 13.

THREE GIRLS
DEAR GIRLS: It is not proper to kiss a boy in the show at ANY age.

"What's your problem? For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Cleveland Power Consumption Up

CLEVELAND (AP)—The president of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. said today the versatility of northeast Ohio's economy was responsible for overcoming the effects of the steel strike and resulted in improved sales in 1959 by CEI.

In the annual report to stockholders, Elmer L. Lindseth said: "Despite the steel strike... we sold more power than in any previous year, 12 per cent more than in 1958. Revenues increased correspondingly — 11 per cent over the previous year—and earnings up from $2.60 to $2.95 per share."

CEI's net income for 1959 was $21,165,650 on sales of $131,051,113. That compares with net income in 1958 of $18,680,183 on sales of $118,479,486.

Road Chiefs Eye Columbus To Toledo Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It will be some time before the State Highway Department decides the route of a major thoroughfare from central Ohio to the Toledo area, Planning and Programming Director Guy E. Nepper said today.

He denied that the department is diverting funds from projects area, including U.S. 23, to use for a new route.

The department is arranging aerial studies along a northwest Columbus-to-Toledo line, Nepper said, but whether the proposed thoroughfare would follow existing U.S. 23 remains to be determined.

In the meantime, work on U.S. 23, north of Columbus, will continue on the basis of need, Nepper said. The most immediate project, not yet ready for contract, is widening and improving streets in Marion to permit oneway travel on U.S. 23 through that city.

In the July 1, 1962, through June 30, 1963, bookkeeping year the department expects to widen and improve U.S. 23 from Marion's north city limits to the intersection with Ohio 4, making it a four-lane highway. Then, during the same period, the existing two-lane route from Ohio 4 to the Wyandot County line will be widened slightly.

Nepper said the department is considering improving Ohio 31 between Marysville and Canton, and possibly U.S. 68 north to U.S. 25 in the Findlay area, but if this were to become a major central-to-northwest thoroughfare, he added, it would have to be determined that U.S. 25 could handle the channeling in of central Ohio traffic.

The 1960 Turbine Drive Buick is the Finest Car You Can Purchase WHY?

I showed an outline of this ad to a customer last week. He said he did not think it would do any good because people are not interested in mechanics. I disagree with that because an automobile is a mechanical thing and it is mechanical construction that will give you the service you thought you purchased. Your service up-keep is based on mechanical construction and the service back of it. You might like the curve of the metal or the location of the moulding but it is still construction that you are buying. There are more Buicks on the road today by over 700,000 than any other car in the medium price class because of mechanical superiority.

Buick Introduced the Following:

- 1903 — VALVE-IN HEAD ENGINES
- 1914 — SELF STARTER
- 1924 — FOUR WHEEL BRAKES
- 1938 — COIL SPRINGS
- 1949 — HARD TOPS
- 1950 — EASY EYE GLASS

Cleveland Power Consumption Up

CLEVELAND (AP)—The president of the Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co. said today the versatility of northeast Ohio's economy was responsible for overcoming the effects of the steel strike and resulted in improved sales in 1959 by CEI.

In the annual report to stockholders, Elmer L. Lindseth said: "Despite the steel strike... we sold more power than in any previous year, 12 per cent more than in 1958. Revenues increased correspondingly—11 per cent over the previous year—and earnings up from $2.60 to $2.95 per share."

CEI's net income for 1959 was $21,165,650 on sales of $131,051,113. That compares with net income in 1958 of $18,680,183 on sales of $118,479,486.

Road Chiefs Eye Columbus To Toledo Plan

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—It will be some time before the State Highway Department decides the route of a major thoroughfare from central Ohio to the Toledo area, Planning and Programming Director Guy E. Nepper said today.

He denied that the department is diverting funds from projects area, including U.S. 23, to use for a new route.

The department is arranging aerial studies along a northwest Columbus-to-Toledo line, Nepper said, but whether the proposed thoroughfare would follow existing U.S. 23 remains to be determined.

In the meantime, work on U.S. 23, north of Columbus, will continue on the basis of need, Nepper said. The most immediate project, not yet ready for contract, is widening and improving streets in Marion to permit one-way travel on U.S. 23 through that city.

In the July 1, 1962, through June 30, 1963, bookkeeping year the department expects to widen and improve U.S. 23 from Marion's north city limits to the intersection with Ohio 4, making it a four-lane highway. Then, during the same period, the existing two-lane route from Ohio 4 to the Wyandot County line will be widened slightly.

Nepper said the department is considering improving Ohio 31 between Marysville and Canton, and possibly U.S. 68 north to U.S. 23 in the Findlay area, but if this were to become a major central-to-northeast thoroughfare, he added, it would have to be determined that U.S. 25 could handle the channeling in of central Ohio traffic.

The 1960 Turbine Drive Buick is the Finest Car You Can Purchase WHY?

I showed an outline of this ad to a customer last week. He said he did not think it would do any good because people are not interested in mechanics. I disagree with that because an automobile is a mechanical thing and it is mechanical construction that will give you the service you thought you purchased. Your service upkeep is based on mechanical construction and the service back of it. You might like the curve of the metal or the location of the moulding but it is still construction that you are buying. There are more Buicks on the road today by over 700,000 than any other car in the medium price class because of mechanical superiority.

Buick Introduced the Following:

- 1903 — VALVE-IN HEAD ENGINES
- 1914 — SELF STARTER
- 1924 — FOUR WHEEL BRAKES
- 1938 — COIL SPRINGS
- 1949 — HARD TOPS

U.S. Financial Markets Get Face Changes

Stocks Drop, Bonds Climb To Bring New Outlook on Money

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP)—The drop in stock prices and the rise in bond prices is changing the look of the financial markets today.

This already has trimmed a bit the bonanza to be had from buying bonds. In time it could halt the erosion of stock market values.

The changing scene in stocks and bonds is making it easier for the U. S. Treasury to fund its debt. It could help states and communities to finance their improvement programs.

And all these crosscurrents together could ease the tightness of money, aid home builders and in stallment buyers.

Yields from old bonds are well under their peak. So new corporate bonds or Treasury bills can be offered at lower interest rates.

Yields have risen on most of those stocks that have suffered price losses.

So the picture of bonds yielding more than most prime stocks is growing dim. Soon they may yield the same. It's possible that they could resume their traditional pattern of stocks yielding more, than the less risky bonds.

Here is how yields are figured: Bonds pay the same interest from issuance to redemption, barring defaults. The yield is different. That is what you get on the money you put into bonds. If their price has fallen, you can buy more with the same amount of money, and the return on your money—although in the same fixed interest—rises.

Stocks pay dividends at the decision of boards of directors. The yields are figured on how much it costs you to buy a stock and how much dividends it pays. When stock prices soar and dividends move little if at all, the yield on stocks drops sharply.

Stock prices rose through most of 1959. Dividends did, too, but at a much slower pace. Stock yields fell.

Bond prices fell during much of 1959, and in many instances the yields of government issues at the lower prices topped 5 per cent, and went still higher on many corporate bonds.

This attracted big individual investors and many institutional investors. The buying of bonds picked up after the stock market started sliding shortly after the start of the year.

Buying of bonds sent their prices up and their yields down. U. S. securities that yielded 5 per cent or better at the start of January now return 4½ per cent or less. The big question is: Will this drop cool off the investment interest in selling common stocks and buying bonds?

There are signs that many big investors as well as the institutions sold common stock after the January break and that many put the money into higher yielding bonds.

The question is: Now that the yields on many stocks look better even if their prices don't, will the big boys come back into the stock market for more than an occasional bargain? If so, a solid floor could be built under the market.

Springfielder Convicted in Mail Threat

NEW YORK (AP)—Howard J. McCall of Springfield, Ohio, has been convicted of mailing a letter demanding $30,000 under threat of bodily harm.

FBI agents seized McCall, 45-year-old salesman, last Jan. 8 in Dayton, Ohio. He was charged with sending the letter to Leonard C. Lane, president of Radio and TV Associates of New York.

McCall contended in Federal Court that he intended no harm to Lane, but was merely attempting to collect an alleged debt.

However, Asst. U. S. Atty. Alen McGrath said the case was strictly a "mail violation."

McCall was convicted on two counts: Mailing a letter threatening bodily harm with intent to extort $30,000, and mailing a letter threatening bodily harm to the addressee.

Maximum sentence is 20 years in prison and a $5,000 fine on the first count, and five years in prison and a $1,000 fine on the second.

Judge Aloysius Connor set March 28 for sentencing.

Actor James Stewart Just Another General in Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP)—A grade B movie on an austerity budget could provide better props than Brig. Gen. James Stewart has for working his two weeks of active duty in the Pentagon Air Force headquarters.

The temporary desk assigned to the tall, taciturn actor is pushed up against the desks of another brigadier general and a colonel. It has no telephone. The pen doesn't work.

There is a tray of paper clips, a desk blotter, and a large pamphlet describing the administrative organization of the United States Air Force.

The offices of the director of public information are on an inside ring of the gigantic Pentagon building. The view from the window includes a concrete wall and a row of windows across the way.

Reserve officers have "mobilization assignments," the job they would be assigned in event of war. Stewart's assignment is deputy director of information. He is getting on-the-job training.

Supervising is Maj. Gen. Arno H. Luehman, USAF director of information. Stewart is the stand-in for Brig. Gen. E. B. LeBailly, the regular deputy director of information.

The Air Force apparently is grim in its determination to give the actor a cram course in the art of public relations. There is a detailed schedule which looks like a film-shooting script—it carries Stewart through a score of briefings, meetings and conferences.

He hears about chains of command, press releases, photographic problems, training films, magazines and books and even how Hollywood productions can be useful or distasteful to the United States Air Force.

Stewart sits in on staff conferences where the public relations experts tell each other how high policy should or shouldn't be translated into news announcements, or how to cope with "flaps"—the Pentagon word for a tempest in a teapot.

This is all new for a man whose peacetime job is acting in movies and whose wartime assignment was to fly bombers. But he says he likes it.

New York Central To Halt 3 Trains

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The New York Central Railroad has notified the Utilities Commission that it intends to discontinue two trains that operate between Cleveland and the Indiana line, effective April 10.

The trains are No. 313, which leaves Cleveland at 1:40 p.m. and arrives in Sidney at 5:08 p.m., and train 314, which leaves Sidney at 1:15 a.m. and arrives in Cleveland at 5:15 a.m.

Intermediate points are Bellefontaine, Marion, Gallon and Crestline.

The railroad said the small volume of passenger traffic does not justify continued operation and the remaining trains will provide adequate service.

Solon Alert to Occasion

TRENTON, N. J. (AP)—Sen. Walter H. Jones was caught flat-footed Monday when his name was called to talk about one of his bills. He had no idea which one it was, but he said, "If I'm sponsoring it, it's a good bill."

Airliner Pilots Grounded at 60

NEW YORK (AP)—Commercial airline pilots 60 years of age or older were grounded today by a Federal Aviation Agency order.

The ban went into effect at midnight after Federal Judge Alexander Bicks Monday denied a motion by the Air Line Pilots Assn. seeking a preliminary injunction against the ruling. Forty-seven pilots were affected immediately.

Attorneys for the pilots argued that the order, issued last December, was arbitrary and unreasonable.

In his order, FAA Administrator E. R. Quesada maintained that to allow pilots 60 or over to fly passengers at speeds of 500 miles an hour would be a hazard to safety in air carrier operations.

At Ripon, Wis., in 1854, a movement was organized that later became the modern day Republican Party.

Population of Egypt is about 18 million persons.

Ohio Farm Bureau Urges Cooperation on Food Rules

WASHINGTON (AP)—An Ohio farm leader called today for closer coordination of government departments to avoid future cranberry scares.

Ferris Owen of Newark, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau, said Secretary of Welfare Arthur Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson should work closer together on such matters.

Here as leader of a delegation of 40 Ohio Farm Bureau delegates, Owen was asked his opinion of Flemming's warning about eating tainted cranberries and chemically treated chickens.

"I certainly have confidence in the integrity of Mr. Flemming," Owen replied. "I have known him a long time. But I think the adverse publicity was unfortunate."

"Certainly we in agriculture are interested in public health. At the same time, we want to be allowed to use all the chemicals in the interest of good farming that we can."

The Ohio farmers will hear a speech by Flemming, a former Ohio Wesleyan University president, today.

Owen also was asked about reports that the current Congress won't agree to the Ohio Farm Bureau's No. 1 legislative proposal: to double the conservation reserve.

This is a program under which the government pays cash to farmers agreeing to take cropland—

often whole farms—out of production.

A reporter reminded Owen that Rep. Robert W. Levering (D-Ohio) objects to expanding this program.

Owen said he had a long talk with Levering about this, and that at least they were able to agree that the conservation reserve principle was sound.

"However, most of the farm legislation he has introduced is in complete disagreement with Farm Bureau policy," Owen said.

Sam Cashman, director of market development and research for the Ohio Farm Bureau, talked with Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio).

"I'm convinced he feels this (expanding the conservation reserve) is better than anything proposed to date," Cashman said.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The drop in stock prices and the rise in bond prices is changing the look of the financial markets today.

This already has trimmed a bit the bonanza to be had from buying bonds. In time it could halt the erosion of stock market values.

The changing scene in stocks and bonds is making it easier for the U. S. Treasury to fund its debt. It could help states and communities to finance their improvement programs.

And all these crosscurrents together could ease the tightness of money, aid home builders and in stallment buyers.

Yields from old bonds are well under their peak. So new corporate bonds or Treasury bills can be offered at lower interest rates.

Yields have risen on most of those stocks that have suffered price losses.

So the picture of bonds yielding more than most prime stocks is growing dim. Soon they may yield the same. It's possible that they could resume their traditional pattern of stocks yielding more than the less risky bonds.

Here is how yields are figured: Bonds pay the same interest from issuance to redemption, barring defaults. The yield is different. That is what you get on the money you put into bonds. If their price has fallen, you can buy more with the same amount of money, and the return on your money—although in the same fixed interest—rises.

Stocks pay dividends at the decision of boards of directors. The yields are figured on how much it costs you to buy a stock and how much dividends it pays.

When stock prices soar and dividends move little if at all, the yield on stocks drops sharply.

Stock prices rose through most of 1959. Dividends did, too, but at a much slower pace. Stock yields fell.

Bond prices fell during much of 1959, and in many instances the yields of government issues at the lower prices topped 5 per cent, and went still higher on many corporate bonds.

This attracted big individual investors and many institutional investors. The buying of bonds picked up after the stock market started sliding shortly after the start of the year.

Buying of bonds sent their prices up and their yields down. U. S. securities that yielded 5 per cent or better at the start of January now return 4 1/2 per cent or less. The big question is: Will this drop cool off the investment interest in selling common stocks and buying bonds?

There are signs that many big investors as well as the institutions sold common stock after the January break and that many put the money into higher yielding bonds.

The question is: Now that the yields on many stocks look better even if their prices don't, will the big boys come back into the stock market for more than an occasional bargain? If so, a solid floor could be built under the market.

Springfielder Convicted in Mail Threat

NEW YORK (AP)—Howard J. McCall of Springfield, Ohio, has been convicted of mailing a letter demanding $30,000 under threat of bodily harm.

FBI agents seized McCall, 45-year-old salesman, last Jan. 8 in Dayton, Ohio. He was charged with sending the letter to Leonard C. Lane, president of Radio and TV Associates of New York.

McCall contended in Federal Court that he intended no harm to Lane, but was merely attempting to collect an alleged debt.

However, Asst. U.S. Atty. Allen McGrath said the case was strictly a "mail violation."

McCall was convicted on two counts: Mailing a letter threatening bodily harm with intent to extort $30,000, and mailing a letter threatening bodily harm to the addressee.

Maximum sentence is 20 years in prison and a $5,000 fine on the first count, and five years in prison and a $1,000 fine on the second.

Judge Aloysius Connor set March 28 for sentencing.

Actor James Stewart Just Another General in Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP)—A grade B movie on an austerity budget could provide better props than Brig. Gen. James Stewart has for working his two weeks of active duty in the Pentagon Air Force headquarters.

The temporary desk assigned to the tall, taciturn actor is pushed up against the desks of another brigadier general and a colonel.

It has no telephone. The pen doesn't work.

There is a tray of paper clips, a desk blotter, and a large pamphlet describing the administrative organization of the United States Air Force.

The offices of the director of public information are on an inside ring of the gigantic Pentagon building. The view from the window includes a concrete wall and a row of windows across the way.

Reserve officers have "mobilization assignments," the job they would be assigned in event of war. Stewart's assignment is deputy director of information. He is getting on-the-job training.

Supervising is Maj. Gen. Arno H. Luehman, USAF director of information. Stewart is the stand-in for Brig. Gen. E. B. LeBailly, the regular deputy director of information.

The Air Force apparently is grim in its determination to give the actor a cram course in the art of public relations. There is a detailed schedule which looks like a film-shooting script—it carries Stewart through a score of briefings, meetings and conferences.

He hears about chains of command, press releases, photographic problems, training films, magazines and books and even how Hollywood productions can be useful or distasteful to the United States Air Force.

Stewart sits in on staff conferences where the public relations experts tell each other how high policy should or shouldn't be translated into news announcements, or how to cope with "flaps"—the Pentagon word for a tempest in a teapot.

This is all new for a man whose peacetime job is acting in movies and whose wartime assignment was to fly bombers. But he says he likes it.

New York Central To Halt 3 Trains

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The New York Central Railroad has notified the Utilities Commission that it intends to discontinue two trains that operate between Cleveland and the Indiana line, effective April 10.

The trains are No. 313, which leaves Cleveland at 1:40 p.m. and arrives in Sidney at 5:08 p.m., and train 314, which leaves Sidney at 1:15 a.m. and arrives in Cleveland at 5:15 a.m.

Intermediate points are Bellefontaine, Marion, Gallon and Crestline.

Airliner Pilots Grounded at 60

NEW YORK (AP)—Commercial airline pilots 60 years of age or older were grounded today by a Federal Aviation Agency order.

The ban went into effect at midnight after Federal Judge Alexander Bicks Monday denied a motion by the Air Line Pilots Assn. seeking a preliminary injunction against the ruling. Forty-seven pilots were affected immediately.

Attorneys for the pilots argued that the order, issued last December, was arbitrary and unreasonable.

In his order, FAA Administrator E. R. Quesada maintained that to allow pilots 60 or over to fly passengers at speeds of 500 miles an hour would be a hazard to safety in air carrier operations.

At Ripon, Wis., in 1854, a movement was organized that later became the modern day Republican Party.

Ohio Farm Bureau Urges Cooperation on Food Rules

Ferris Owen of Newark, president of the Ohio Farm Bureau, said Secretary of Welfare Arthur A. Benson should work closer together on such matters.

Here as leader of a delegation of 40 Ohio Farm Bureau delegates, Owen was asked his opinion of Flemming's warning about eating tainted cranberries and chemically treated chickens.

"I certainly have confidence in the integrity of Mr. Flemming," Owen replied. "I have known him a long time. But I think the adverse publicity was unfortunate."

"Certainly we in agriculture are interested in public health. At the same time, we want to be allowed to use all the chemicals in the interest of good farming that we can."

The Ohio farmers will hear a speech by Flemming, a former Ohio Wesleyan University president, today.

Owen also was asked about reports that the current Congress won't agree to the Ohio Farm Bureau's No. 1 legislative proposal: to double the conservation reserve.

This is a program under which the government pays cash to farmers agreeing to take cropland—

often whole farms—out of production.

A reporter reminded Owen that Rep. Robert W. Levering (D-Ohio) objects to expanding this program.

Owen said he had a long talk with Levering about this, and that at least they were able to agree that the conservation reserve principle was sound.

"However, most of the farm legislation he has introduced is in complete disagreement with Farm Bureau policy," Owen said.

Sam Cashman, director of market development and research for the Ohio Farm Bureau, talked with Sen. Frank J. Lausche (D-Ohio).

"I'm convinced he feels this (expanding the conservation reserve) is better than anything proposed to date," Cashman said.

Sen. Young Again Lashes Civil Defense

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Stephen M. Young (D-Ohio) said today mayors in the Cleveland area are still supporting a "worse than useless county Civil Defense program."

Young, in a prepared Senate speech, said Cleveland Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze and some suburban Cleveland mayors adopted a 1960 Civil Defense budget just short of $250,000.

Young, a constant critic of Civil Defense as a billion-dollar boondoggle, said the Cleveland area mayors also want money spent on evacuation signs and on a special pamphlet for every Cuyahoga County (Cleveland) home.

"If the brochure follows a 'ridiculous pamphlet' put out in Washington, Young said, it will propose two opposite courses of action in the event of attack: Evacuate and take shelter.

"Our citizens are to be told at taxpayers' expense to build shelters in their basements and backyards at the same time that they are being told to evacuate," Young said.

"Meanwhile, paid Civil Defense officials are spending taxpayers' money to erect evacuation signs. How absurd can we get?"

With respect to the construction of shelters, Young said:

"In my own state of Ohio no salaried Civil Defense official has taken the trouble and incurred the expense of building such a shelter, unless since I first exposed this fact months ago one of these puppets because of shame has built a shelter in his basement. "If so, he has built a likely fire trap in event of a nuclear attack. What the American people really need is shelter from a new big fallout of state regimentation."

Rhee Forces Win Easily In Election

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Syngman Rhee's forces won the presidency and vice presidency of South Korea today in a landslide after a bloody election the opposition charged was rigged. The anti-Rhee Democratic party promised a court contest.

Post-election violence flared anew as demonstrators, disgruntled with the outcome of the voting, scuffled today with police in front of the Democrats' Seoul headquarters.

At least 7 and perhaps up to 11 persons were reported killed Tuesday in election violence. All but one died in a seven-hour battle between police, Democrats and students at Masan, 250 miles south of Seoul.

Rhee, whose Democratic party opponent died a month ago after a stomach operation, won his fourth four-year term with a record popular vote.

This time the 84-year-old president's powerful Liberal party machine succeeded in electing National Assembly Speaker Lee Ki-poong to the vice presidency. Lee, 63, overwhelmingly defeated John M. Chang of the Democrats, who had bested Lee in the 1956 vice presidential race by 200,000 votes. The vice presidential race was of major importance because of the possibility the aged president might not live out his term.

Rhee Forces Win Easily In Election

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—Syngman Rhee's forces won the presidency and vice presidency of South Korea today in a landslide after a bloody election the opposition charged was rigged. The anti-Rhee Democratic party promised a court contest.

Post-election violence flared anew as demonstrators, disgruntled with the outcome of the voting, scuffled today with police in front of the Democrats' Seoul headquarters.

At least 7 and perhaps up to 11 persons were reported killed Tuesday in election violence. All but one died in a seven-hour battle between police, Democrats and students at Masan, 250 miles south of Seoul.

Rhee, whose Democratic party opponent died a month ago after a stomach operation, won his fourth four-year term with a record popular vote.

This time the 84-year-old president's powerful Liberal party machine succeeded in electing National Assembly Speaker Lee Ki-poong to the vice presidency. Lee, 63, overwhelmingly defeated John M. Chang of the Democrats, who had bested Lee in the 1956 vice presidential race by 200,000 votes.

The vice presidential race was of major importance because of the possibility the aged president might not live out his term.

Parents Married After Quints Born

CUERNAVACA, Mexico (AP)—A woman who gave birth to quintuplets a week ago married their father Monday in a hospital where the four surviving infants lay in incubators.

A civil ceremony was held for Paula Guerrero Mungia, 43, and Gilberto Diaz, 28. They plan a religious ceremony later.

Mrs. Diaz gave birth to two boys and three girls last Tuesday. One boy died shortly after birth. The couple have two other children.

Diaz, an unemployed farmhand, said he and Paula had not married for 10 years because of money troubles and objections from her family. Now he has been promised a steady job. Mrs. Diaz' parents are reconciled to the union and authorities plan to build a home for the family.

One of the finest Pickaway County All-Star Basketball teams in recent years took the spotlight today.

The 10-man all-county squad represents the "cream" of the 10 school talent-rich basketball quintets with well-balanced scoring, height, speed and defensive ability.

The mythical selection includes a first team, second team and 12-man honorable mention list.

Many outstanding cagers made this year's all-star selection difficult for The Herald sports staff. Selection was based on all-around basketball ability, performance, attitude and team spirit displayed throughout the four-month season.

ASHVILLE, winner of the county league with nine straight wins and tournament champion for the 15th time in 39 outings, placed two men on the first team and one on the second quintet.

Darby, league runnersup and third place in the tournament, landed two men on the first squad. Williamsport placed the fifth first team player.

Robert Hoover paced the first five and was named captain. The balance of the team was composed of Thomas Walters and Thomas Liff, Darby; David Myers, Williamsport, and Thomas Rathburn, Ashville.

Thomas Harber, Walnut, led the second team selection and was named captain. The other four team members named were Steve Fullen, Monroe; Ronald Morris, Atlanta; Dennis Valentine, Saltcreek, and Richard Hollenback, Ashville.

All-County selections were chosen on season and county tournament play. Point averages were considered along with the player's value to his squad, each game's play and his ability compared to the rest of the county's manpower.

Captain Hoover showed giant improvement over last year's play. The 6' 4" senior pivot man concentrated on basketball this year, foregoing his football career, which saw him named to the All-Darby Valley League two years straight as an end.

HOOVER was named the Bob Bowsher Trophy winner Monday. This designated him the outstanding senior cager in the county by voting of the 10 coaches.

Hoover has 1,587 points in four years of varsity play and more than 1,300 rebounds to date. He has averaged 10.5 points per game in 92 outings.

The all-round athlete was named All-Darby Valley League first team basketball in 1959 and 1958 and is a cinch for the nomination this year.

He is a repeat All-County first team from last year while making the second team in 1958 and honorable mention as a freshman. He has captained the Ashville Broncos for two years, led them in scoring for three years and in rebounding for four years.

Teammate Rathburn is one of the finest young players to hit the county in years. Along with Hoover they made one of the best back-court duos in central Ohio.

Hoover is deadly on turn-around jump shots and tip-ins while Rathburn hit from the corners and from 10 to 15 feet outside. The 6' 3" sophomore has tallied 630 points in two years with a 16.6 average to date and an 11.1 average last year.

RATHBURN was All-County honorable mention last year. He was Hoover's main target at passing off along with Gary Gaines. He is the first sophomore to make the first team in years.

Walters turned into one of the outstanding front court jump shots in central Ohio. The 5' 9" senior guard registered 1,139 points in his three-year varsity career.

The torrid Trojan, a repeat All-County first team from last year, was second team in his sophomore year. He averaged 10.3 in 1958 with 216 points; 16.5 in 1959 with 379 points, and 23.7 this year with 544 points.

He was superb at picking and screening and could shoot off the dribble as well as behind a

Liff, a 5' 9" senior guard and Walters partner, combined to make one of the most sensational back-court combinations in the state. He was the ball handler and team leader for the Trojans.

The cool performer was most proficient at screening and passing off to Walters. Defensively he was Walters' equal and could hit from 20 to 25 feet out with consistency as could Walters.

LIFF notched 732 points during his two-year varsity career, averaging 14.1 in 1959 and 19.5 during this past season with 409 markers. He was a second team all-county last year.

Final member of the elite first five is Williamsport's "jack-of-all-trades", Myers. This 6' senior could make impossible shots look easy and specialized in dribbling and ball handling.

Myers averaged 59.8 per cent from the charity strip and 40 per cent from the field in four seasons. He nabbed 975 rebounds for a 14 per game average and hit a fine 22.6-point average in three years of playing.

His improvement over the years was remarkable. In 1957 he averaged 10 points per game on 60 markers; 1958 — 18.6 with 372 points; 1959 — 24.4 on 537 points and connected for 593 points this season.

Myers was All-county second team last year and honorable mention in 1958 as a sophomore. He and Walters were honorable mention All-Ohio in 1959.

SECOND TEAM leader, Harber, is a 6' 2" junior cager from Walnut. This was his first year of varsity play. He averaged 17.6 points per game with a total of 316 markers. Harber was a fine center and was excellent on defense.

The 5' 8" sophomore was all-county honorable mention last year, when he averaged 12.4 on 211 points. This year he holds a 9.4 average with 245 markers.

The 5' 10" senior has basketball knowledge and a sincere desire to win. He was all-county honorable mention last year. He collected 741 points in three years of varsity play.

ATLANTA'S MORRIS was a capable center with ability to score from the outside. He was the team leader and good under the bank boards.

Morris, a 6' senior, was honorable mention all-county last year. He snared 751 points in three years of varsity play. In 1958 he hit 32 points for a 3.2; 1959 — 18.1 on 325, and in his final year connected for 394 points for a 19.7 average.

Final member of the top 10 is Saltcreek's Valentine who is hoping to follow in brother Gary's footsteps. Elder Gary was last year's Bowsher trophy winner and the county's leading scorer.

Young Denny has 380 points in two years of varsity play with an 8.1 average last year and completed this season with a 13.8 mark. He 5' 11" junior's best shot was 15 to 25 feet out on the side. He also was a fine rebounder.

SCIOTO—Roy Sanders, a 5' 7 1/2" senior with a 12.1 average, and William Hoover, a 6' senior who averaged 13.1; Atlanta — Thomas

Bonus Baby Sparkles In Spring Training

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Yastrzemski, a 20-year-old Long Island, N.Y. native, is one of baseball's bonus babies—he picked up a reported $100,000 when he signed with the Boston Red Sox.

The young second baseman, who played college ball at Notre Dame, spent last season with Raleigh of the Class B Carolina League, hitting .377 in his first year in organized baseball.

This spring Yastrzemski has been amazing Red Sox camp followers with his play and has been singled out by Boston Manager Billy Jurges for future stardom. He probably would stick now if he was an outfielder.

With the Red Sox weakened by the sudden retirement of slugger Jackie Jensen and a sub-par Ted Williams, Jurges has been giving his young prospects a solid chance to make the outfield grade.

Despite this, Yastrzemski keeps battling for an infield berth with the parent club. He came up with another impressive performance Tuesday, cracking a homer as the Red Sox ran their exhibition record to 3-0 with a 6-5 victory over San Francisco.

In other games on a program abbreviated by rain, Chicago's American League champion White Sox remained undefeated by blanking New York 3-0; Pittsburgh outlasted Kansas City in a 17-3 slugfest; Cleveland edged Chicago's Cubs 7-5 and the Cincinnati Reds turned back the Baltimore Orioles 5-2, in a night game.

Folley Is Favored To Trip DeJohn

CLEVELAND (AP)—The odds-makers are saying Mike De John will need a knockout to defeat highly ranked heavyweight Zora Folley, the favorite in tonight's 10-round televised bout at the Arena.

And De John, who has 27 knockouts to his credit in 48 professional bouts (40-7-1), says he is just the man who can do it.

"Just one good shot is all I might need to make those odds look foolish," said De John, a 212-pounder from Syracuse, N. Y.

Folley, from Chandler, Ariz., weighs 200 and is ranked by Ring magazine as the No. 1 contender for Ingemar Johansson's title. He has won 52 of his 56 professional fights, 30 of them by knockouts.

De John is ranked seventh. The fight will be nationally televised (ABC 10 p.m. EST).

Oyer, a 6' junior who averaged 12.6;

Monroe — Lawrence Bigam, a repeat, the 5' 9" senior averaged 16.4, and Roger Mowery, a 5' 8" senior who averaged 10.3; Saltcreek — Charles Spangler, a 6' sophomore with an 11.7 average;

Ashville — Gary Gaines, a 6' 1" senior with a 9.7 average, and James Gregg, a 5' 9" junior with a 5.5 average, and Williamsport — Reed Anderson, a 5' 10" senior, with a 7.7 average.

The elite ten was made up of six seniors, two juniors and two sophomores. The honorable mention team had seven seniors, four juniors and a sophomore.

College Football Guaranteed $6 1/4 Million for TV Rights

NEW YORK — The nation's football-playing colleges can look forward to a guaranteed record 6 million dollars from television revenue in the next two seasons.

But perhaps benefitting even more from Tuesday's rich contract between the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. and the American Broadcasting Co. will be the American Football League.

It was the first two-year contract the NCAA ever awarded to a television network, and nearly tripled the previous high of $2,200,000 bid by NBC for the 1959 season. No figures were disclosed by the NCAA or ABC, but The Associated Press learned that the ABC bid outstripped the National Broadcasting Co.'s offer by nearly a million dollars. NBC bid $5,300,000, the AP learned.

A Columbia Broadcasting System spokesman said CBS did not bid for the college games which will be televised on 13 dates each of the next two seasons.

The switch by the colleges leaves the current football TV lineup this way: CBS has the National Football League and ABC the college games. NBC has nothing to offer advertisers for the highly competitive weekend fall TV sports market.

That's where the American Football League comes in. The AFL has been leaning toward ABC in contract negotiations on the assumption that NBC money was in college football and CBS cash in the NFL.

Now the AFL suddenly becomes extremely desirable to NBC and if the new pro football league plays its cards right, it may pull off a much fatter deal than was possible previously.

The amount paid by ABC was not surprising in that the 1960-61 NCAA plan is the most attractive ever offered.

Bonnie Star Feels Good After Victory

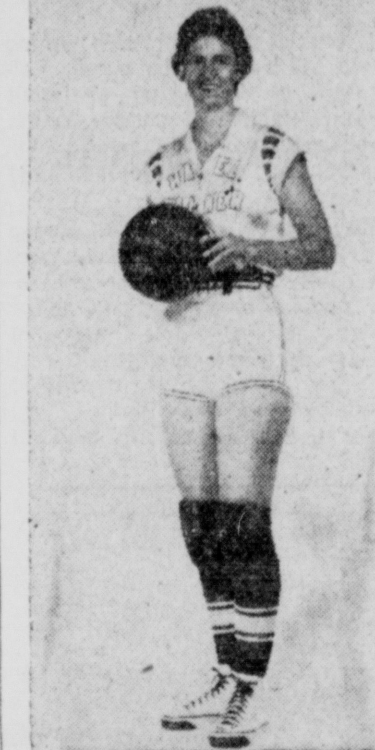

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Invitation Tournament takes a 24-hour breather today while the basketball gentry savors the play of little Sam Stith that has fired streaking St. Bonaventure into the semifinals along with top-seeded Bradley, Utah State and Providence.

Sam's savoring it, too. "Oh, man, it was delicious," he said Tuesday night after scoring a tournament high of 37 points in the Bonnies' 106-71 rout of defending champion St. John's.

Sam, a chunky 6-2 bundle of speed, has scored 64 points in St. Bonaventure's two NIT victories so far. With his ball-hawking and floor generalship added in, he's overshadowing his more publicized brother, Tom, the nation's No. 2 scorer with a 32-point average. This although Tom has scored 51 points in the two games and has rebounded well.

The Bonnies, now 21-3 with an 18-game winning streak, get their semifinal test Thursday night against Bradley, the nation's No. 4 team with a 25-2 record after spilling Dayton 78-64 in the opener of Tuesday night's doubleheader.

Providence (23-4) and Utah (23-4), who won their quarter-final games on Saturday, meet in the other semi with the two winners playing for the tournament championship Saturday afternoon.

GEORGIA PEACH — Louise Barber of Manor, Ga., is the rookie of the Arkansas Travelers all-girl cage squad which meets a high school faculty men's team here Thursday night. The 6-1 Georgian is a dead shot and valuable member of the famed quintet.

Hupp Is Cited As Top Coach

Salem Local Pilot Tops Class A Poll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The mentors of Ohio's four unbeaten Class A high school teams staged a close race today for 1960 coach of the year laurels, with the honors going to William (Bill) Hupp of Salem Local of Champaign County.

Hupp, a native of Wheeling, W. Va., who has coached the Tigers to a three-year 70-4 record, nosed out Dan Baker of West Salem Northwestern, Homer Pelligrino of New Boston, and Paul Nemetz of Granville for the big prize in the annual Associated Press poll.

The 32-year-old Hupp coached his Buckhannon, W. Va., team to the state tourney twice as he compiled a three-year 64-16 mark, and his 27-0 Tigers reached the Ohio final four a year ago. His current squad is 23-0, the lone loss in the last 51 games being in last year's state semi-finals.

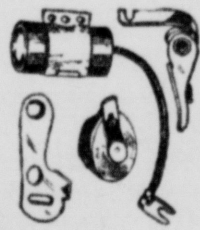

Hundreds of votes from sports writers, coaches and officials were cast in the annual poll. Others prominent in the voting were Eldon Malling of Vincent, Lee Heminger of Ayersville, Dan Hall of Carthage-Troy, Don Heft of Pickerington, Jack Davis of Trenton, Chuck Kelly of Akron St. Mary, Dick Williams of Lowellville, Marty Vieth of Fostoria St. Wendelin, Jim Stull of Garaway, and Ken Justice of Waterloo.

John Woolums of Dayton Roosevelt won the Class AA coach of the year award, giving both titles to southwestern district teams. A year ago both went to the northeast, with Dale Reichenbach of Elyria winning in Class AA, and Tony Paris of Norwalk St. Paul in Class A.

Bill Henry, relief pitcher obtained by Cincinnati, last season won nine, lost eight and saved 15 games for the Cubs.

RATHBURN was All-County honorable mention last year. He was Hoover's main target at passing off along with Gary Gaines. He is the first sophomore to make the first team in years.

Walters turned into one of the outstanding front court jump shots in central Ohio. The 5' 9" senior guard registered 1,139 points in his three-year varsity career.

The torrid Trojan, a repeat All-County first team from last year, was second team in his sophomore year. He averaged 10.3 in 1958 with 216 points; 16.5 in 1959 with 379 points, and 23.7 this year with 544 points.

He was superb at picking and screening and could shoot off the dribble as well as behind a screen. His defensive ability was never questioned.

Liff, a 5' 9" senior guard and Walters partner, combined to make one of the most sensational back-court combinations in the state. He was the ball handler and team leader for the Trojans.

The cool performer was most proficient at screening and passing off to Walters. Defensively he was Walters' equal and could hit from 20 to 25 feet out with consistency as could Walters.

LIFF notched 732 points during his two-year varsity career, averaging 14.1 in 1959 and 19.5 during this past season with 409 markers. He was a second team all-county last year.

Final member of the elite first five is Williamsport's "jack-of-all-trades", Myers. This 6' senior could make impossible shots look easy and specialized in dribbling and ball handling.

He tallied 1,562 points during his four-year career. His top average of 25.4 points per game this year captured the county individual scoring title.

Myers averaged 59.8 per cent from the charity strip and 40 per cent from the field in his four seasons. He nabbed 975 rebounds for a 14 per game average and hit a fine 22.6-point average in three years of playing.

His improvement over the years was remarkable. In 1957 he averaged 10 points per game on 30 markers. 1958 — 18.6 with 372 points; 1959 — 24.4 on 537 points and connected for 393 points this season.

Myers was All-county second team last year and honorable mention in 1958 as a sophomore. He and Walters were honorable mention All-Ohio in 1959.

SECOND TEAM leader, Harber, is a 6' 2" junior cager from Walnut. This was his first year of varsity play. He averaged 17.6 points per game with a total of 316 markers. Harber was a fine center and was excellent on defense.

Ashville's Hollenback carries the Broncos' hopes for a state Class "A" title. He is adept from 20 to 30 feet out and a great ball handler.

The 5' 8" sophomore was all-county honorable mention last year, when he averaged 12.4 on 211 points. This year he holds a 9.4 average with 245 markers.

Fullen, Monroe's converted pivot man, made the second team on the basis of his accurate jump against taller opponents.

The 5' 10" senior has basketball knowledge and a sincere desire to win. He was all-county honorable mention last year. He collected 741 points in three years of varsity play.

In his sophomore year, Fullen averaged 9.7 on 165 points; 1959 — 14 on 252 markers, and this year averaged 18.2 with 324 points.

ATLANTA'S MORRIS was a capable center with ability to score from the outside. He was the team leader and good under the bankboards.

Morris, a 6' senior, was honorable mention all-county last year. He snared 751 points in three years of varsity play. In 1958 he hit 32 points for a 3.2; 1959 — 18.1 on 325, and in his final year connected for 394 points for a 19.7 average.

Final member of the top 10 is Saltercreek's Valentine who is hoping to follow in brother Gary's footsteps. Elder Gary was last year's Bowsher trophy winner and the county's leading scorer.

Young Denny has 380 points in two years of varsity play with an 8.1 average last year and completed this season with a 13.8 mark. He 5' 11" junior's best shot was 15 to 25 feet out on the side. He also was a fine rebounder.

The following members of the honorable mention list were difficult to keep off the top 10:
Walnut — Gary Hoover, a 6' 1" senior with a 13.4 average; Jackson — Robert Eitel, a 6' junior who averaged 13.5; Pickaway — Ralph England, a 5' 10" junior with a 13.4 average;

SCIOTO — Roy Sanders, a 5' 7 1/2" senior with a 12.1 average, and William Hoover, a 6' senior who averaged 13.1; Atlanta — Thomas

Bonus Baby Sparkles In Spring Training

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The name Carl Yastrzemski may be hard to spell but it shouldn't be difficult to remember.

Yastrzemski, a 20-year-old Long Island, N.Y. native, is one of baseball's bonus babies—he picked up a reported $100,000 when he signed with the Boston Red Sox.

The young second baseman, who played college ball at Notre Dame, spent last season with Raleigh of the Class B Carolina League, hitting .377 in his first year in organized baseball.

This spring Yastrzemski has been amazing Red Sox camp followers with his play and has been singled out by Boston Manager Billy Jurges for future stardom. He probably would stick now if he was an outfielder.

With the Red Sox weakened by the sudden retirement of slugger Jackie Jensen and a sub-par Ted Williams, Jurges has been giving his young prospects a solid chance to make the outfield grade.

Despite this, Yastrzemski keeps battling for an infield berth with the parent club. He came up with another impressive performance Tuesday, cracking a homer as the Red Sox ran their exhibition record to 3-0 with a 6-5 victory over San Francisco.

In other games on a program abbreviated by rain, Chicago's American League champion White Sox remained undefeated by blanking New York 3-0; Pittsburgh outlasted Kansas City in a 17-3 slugfest; Cleveland edged Chicago's Cubs 7-5 and the Cincinnati Reds turned back the Baltimore Orioles 5-2, in a night game.

Folley Is Favored To Trip DeJohn

CLEVELAND (AP)—The odds-makers are saying Mike DeJohn will need a knockout to defeat highly ranked heavyweight Zora Folley, the favorite in tonight's 10-round televised bout at the Arena.

And DeJohn, who has 27 knockouts to his credit in 48 professional bouts (40-7-1), says he is just the man who can do it.

"Just one good shot is all I might need to make those odds look foolish," said DeJohn, a 212-pounder from Syracuse, N.Y.

Folley, from Chandler, Ariz., weighs 200 and is ranked by Ring magazine as the No. 1 contender for Ingemar Johansson's title. He has won 52 of his 56 professional fights, 30 of them by knockouts.

DeJohn is ranked seventh. The fight will be nationally televised (ABC 10 p.m. EST).

Oyer, a 6' junior who averaged 12.6.

Monroe — Lawrence Bigam, a repeat, the 5' 9" senior averaged 16.4, and Roger Mowery, a 5' 8" senior who averaged 10.3; Saltercreek — Charles Spangler, a 6' sophomore with an 11.7 average.

Ashville — Gary Gaines, a 6' 1" senior with a 9.7 average, and James Gregg, a 5' 9" junior with a 5.5 average, and Williamsport — Reed Anderson, a 5' 10" senior, with a 7.7 average.

The elite ten was made up of six seniors, two juniors and two sophomores. The honorable mention team had seven seniors, four juniors and a sophomore.

College Football Guaranteed $6 1/4 Million for TV Rights

NEW YORK — The nation's football-playing colleges can look forward to a guaranteed record $6 million dollars from television revenue in the next two seasons.

But perhaps benefitting even more from Tuesday's rich contract between the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. and the American Broadcasting Co. will be the American Football League.

It was the first two-year contract the NCAA ever awarded to a television network, and nearly tripled the previous high of $2,200,000 bid by NBC for the 1959 season. No figures were disclosed by the NCAA or ABC, but The Associated Press learned that the ABC bid outstripped the National Broadcasting Co.'s offer by nearly a million dollars. NBC bid $5,300,000, the AP learned.

A Columbia Broadcasting System spokesman said CBS did not bid for the college games which will be televised on 13 dates each of the next two seasons.

The switch by the colleges leaves the current football TV lineup this way: CBS has the National Football League and ABC the college games. NBC has nothing to offer advertisers for the highly competitive weekend fall TV sports market.

That's where the American Football League comes in. The AFL has been leaning toward ABC in contract negotiations on the assumption that NBC money was in college football and CBS cash in the NFL.

Now the AFL suddenly becomes extremely desirable to NBC and if the new pro football league plays its cards right, it may pull off a much fatter deal than was possible previously.

The amount paid by ABC was not surprising in that the 1960-61 NCAA plan is the most attractive ever offered.

It gives the network control of both nine national and four regional dates each season. Previously the network had no control over regional games. The regions have also been expanded into only three national segments. Previously they often were broken down into as many as eight, the number of NCAA districts.

44 Fight Chickens Are Rounded Up

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two Animal Protective League agents rounded up 44 fighting cocks and hens after a spirited chase in Bedford Heights.

The fowl belonged to Elgie Choford, who died recently. Neighbors called the APL because no one had come to feed and water the birds since Sunday.

Agent Al Simon said he found about a dozen dead birds and that much of the fight had gone out of the live birds.

He said someone had set the hens loose.

Bonnie Star Feels Good After Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Invitation Tournament takes a 24-hour breather today while the basketball gentry savors the play of little Sam Stith that has fired streaking St. Bonaventure into the semifinals along with top-seeded Bradley, Utah State and Providence.

Sam's savoring it, too. "Oh, man, it was delicious," he said Tuesday night after scoring a tournament high of 37 points in the Bonnies' 106-71 rout of defending champion St. John's.

Sam, a chunky 6-2 bundle of speed, has scored 64 points in St. Bonaventure's two NIT victories so far. With his ball-hawking and floor generalship added in, he's overshadowing his more publicized brother, Tom, the nation's No. 2 scorer with a 32-point average. This although Tom has scored 51 points in the two games and has rebounded well.

The Bonnies, now 21-3 with an 18-game winning streak, get their semifinal test Thursday night against Bradley, the nation's No. 4 team with a 25-2 record after spilling Dayton 78-64 in the opener of Tuesday night's doubleheader.

Providence (23-4) and Utah (23-4), who won their quarter-final games on Saturday, meet in the other semi with the two winners playing for the tournament championship Saturday afternoon.

GEORGIA PEACH — Louise Barber of Manor, Ga., is the rookie of the Arkansas Travelers all-girl cage squad which meets a high school faculty men's team here Thursday night. The 6-1 Georgian is a dead shot and valuable member of the famed quintet.

Hupp Is Cited As Top Coach

Salem Local Pilot Tops Class A Poll

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The mentors of Ohio's four unbeaten Class A high school teams staged a close race today for 1960 coach of the year laurels, with the honors going to William (Bill) Hupp of Salem Local of Champaign County.

Hupp, a native of Wheeling, W. Va., who has coached the Tigers to a three-year 70-4 record, nosed out Dan Baker of West Salem Northwestern, Homer Pelligrino of New Boston, and Paul Nemetz of Granville for the big prize in the annual Associated Press poll.

The 32-year-old Hupp coached his Buckhannon, W. Va., team to the state tourney twice as he compiled a three-year 64-16 mark, and his 27-0 Tigers reached the Ohio final four a year ago. His current squad is 23-0, the lone loss in the last 51 games being in last year's state semi-finals.

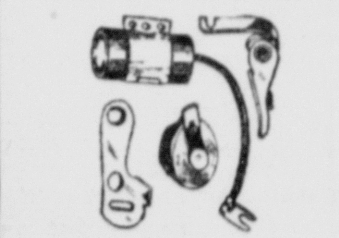

Hundreds of votes from sports writers, coaches and officials were cast in the annual poll. Others prominent in the voting were Eldon Malling of Vincent, Lee Heminger of Ayersville, Dan Hall of Carthage-Troy, Don Heft of Pickerington, Jack Davis of Trenton, Chuck Kelly of Akron St. Mary, Dick Williams of Lovellville, Marty Vieth of Postoria St. Wendelin, Jim Stull of Garaway, and Ken Justice of Waterloo.

The selections were based on pre-tournament performances.

John Woolums of Dayton Roosevelt won the Class AA coach of the year award, giving both titles to southwestern district teams. A year ago both went to the northeast, with Dale Reichenbach of Elyria winning in Class AA, and Tony Paris of Norwalk St. Paul in Class A.

Bill Henry, relief pitcher obtained by Cincinnati, last season won nine, lost eight and saved 15 games for the Cubs.

BRONCO BENCH STRENGTH—Here are two reasons why the Ashville Broncos are a member of the state's "Sweet Sixteen" in Class A. Phil Reese, a 5' 10" guard, left, is averaging 4.7 points per game and is a steady performer in relief of Jimmy Gregg and Dickie Hollenback. On the right is Dale Fout, a 5' 11" forward sub who relieves the back court men. Fout is averaging 4.1 and is a capable rebounder and corner shot. Both are seniors. (Staff Photo)

When the Ashville Broncos tangle with the Trenton Trojans at 7:15 p. m. Friday in Troy's Hobart Arena, two teams of similar height and offensive ability will meet.

The scene will be the opener of the Troy Class "A" Basketball Regional. Ashville sports a fine 24-2 record opposed to Trenton's 19-2.

Trenton's offensive average is 72 points per game compared to Ashville's 70.9, designating two fine attacks of running ball clubs.

Defensively, Trenton holds the edge here too, halting opponents with a 49-point per game average to the Broncos' 51.9. This little difference denotes the defensive strength of both quintets.

BOTH TRENTON and Ashville have run into considerable ball control tactics. Friday night the opportunity presents itself for both clubs to run at will.

Each squad uses identical offensive maneuvers with the two forwards split on the sides, the two guards closer together in the front court and the center in the key hole, either in a high post or circling the bucket.

Fast breaks are a specialty with each team. Trenton's Taylor, a nifty guard, leads the Trojan break with his fine speed and adept ball handling.

Ashville's Jimmy Gregg matches Taylor in ability and will probably guard him in the man-to-man defense which the Broncos employ.

Defensively Trenton goes with a 2-3 zone that has caused opposition much difficulty. Ashville Mentor Russell Gregg is hoping this defense will lead to Trenton's downfall because few zones have worked against the Broncos this season.

Trenton relies on six men to get the job done. Five are seniors while Taylor is the only junior.

TRENTON'S front court men are 5' 9" Taylor and 5' 11" Kelly. Taylor has an 8-point average. Kelly leads his team in scoring with a 16-point mark and is considered a dead shot.

The pivot slot is manned by Kash, a 6' 3" senior. He is averaging 14 points per game. The two forwards are 6' 5" Baily and 6' 2" Arnold. Baily holds a 14-point average and Arnold sports a 12-points per game.

Sixth man is a guard, Brown. The 5' 7" senior usually replaces Taylor, with Kelly moving into a forward slot.

Owner of Hawks Expects Victory Against Lakers

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Owner Ben Kerner makes it clear he doesn't expect his St. Louis Hawks to stumble again in the pro basketball playoffs—and an injury to veteran Slater (Dugie) Martin wouldn't serve as an excuse.

"This is our greatest club," Kerner said today. "Our bench is much stronger than last year and so is the backline. Even the front line is better."

"Their mental attitude facing Minneapolis is far better than last year."

Martin, a 34-year-old, 11-year veteran of many National Basketball Assn. playoffs, will be ready for spot duty at best in the opener of the best-of-seven Western final series with Minneapolis tonight. Martin re-injured his right leg—a pulled muscle—on March 6 and the leg is still stiff.

Dugie was injured in the first game of the Western playoffs last season and the Lakers won the series in six games.

Bigger Names May Not Star In NCAA Finals

Unsung Cagers Tagged As Players To Watch In Championship Play

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati, Darrall Imhoff of California, Jerry Lucas of Ohio State and Tom Sanders of New York University . . .

Those are the big names here for the NCAA basketball championships this weekend, but it may be some unsung fellow who'll play the big role in deciding the cage title.

Nominations in that category include Cal Bouldin of Cincinnati, Earl Shultz and Tandy Gillis of California, Larry Siegfried of Ohio State and Russ Cunningham of NYU.

All perhaps are more appreciated by their coaches and teammates than by the fans.

A junior guard standing 6-1, Bouldin lettered last year and had proven a steady influence this year from his backcourt post.

Cal's Shultz has proved an exceptionally good outside shooter. Gillis held West Virginia's All-America Jerry West to one field goal when the teams met in the Los Angeles Tournament finals. He probably will draw the job of guarding the nation's leading collegiate scorer, Robertson, when Cal battles the Bearcats Friday night after Ohio State plays NYU.

Siegfried was voted Ohio State's most valuable performer a year ago and finished as the fourth leading scorer in the Big Ten. This year he's become the playmaker for the Buckeyes.

"He has been our key man defensively and hasn't shot as much as last season," explains Coach Fred Taylor who has sophomore Lucas as his leading scorer.

"Larry made quite a personal sacrifice this year but it certainly has helped the team."

New York's Cunningham at 5-8 is the shortest man in the finals. But Coach Lou Rossini won't forget his score in the final three seconds that tied the score in the Eastern Regionals against West Virginia.

Frank (Bots) Nekola, former Holy Cross southpaw pitcher, scouts for the Boston Red Sox.

CHS Grid Outlook Features Strong Line, Young Backs

Circleville High School football coach Carl Benhase, taking an early peek at the 1960 grid season here, said today he anticipates his team to have a large and powerful line with reasonable speed and depth.

Looking a little deeper, Coach Benhase said his backfield will be young and inexperienced, but noted that it owns fine potential. He said development of the backfield corps remains to be seen.

Nine regulars from the 1959 squad graduated and regular guard Irving Ellis is slated to move to South Carolina in the near future.

Only one regular returns from the 1958 squad. He is End Jake Bailey, a 170-pounder who has sure hands as a receiver and is a tough competitor.

Redlegs Chalk First Win in Spring Preps

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds have won their first exhibition game in four tries.

The bases were loaded when Vada Pinson singled to hoist the Reds to a 5-2 victory over Baltimore Tuesday night.

Pinson had two other hits in serving notice he's ready to take up where he left off when he led Reds' batters on just about every count last year, including a .316 average.

Orioles' rookie Jim Archer put two strikes and a ball past the sober-faced Californian, then served one up that Pinson lashed to right field. Gus Bell followed by batting in an insurance marker.

SCO Meet Slated Today at Hillsboro

Circleville High School administrators and coaches travel to Hillsboro tonight for a regular South Central Ohio League meeting.

A business session will follow a 6:30 p. m. dinner. Officials from other SCO schools slated to attend are from Washington C. H., Greenfield, Wilmington, Franklin Heights, Pleasant View and proposed new member Miami Trace.

"He has been our key man defensively and hasn't shot as much as last season," explains Coach Fred Taylor who has sophomore Lucas as his leading scorer.

"Larry made quite a personal sacrifice this year but it certainly has helped the team."

New York's Cunningham at 5-8 is the shortest man in the finals. But Coach Lou Rossini won't forget his score in the final three seconds that tied the score in the Eastern Regionals against West Virginia.

Frank (Bots) Nikola, former Holy Cross southpaw pitcher, scouts for the Boston Red Sox.

CHS Grid Outlook Features Strong Line, Young Backs

Circleville High School football coach Carl Benhase, taking an early peek at the 1960 grid season here, said today he anticipates his team to have a large and powerful line with reasonable speed and depth.

Looking a little deeper, Coach Benhase said his backfield will be young and inexperienced, but noted that it owns fine potential.

Redlegs Chalk First Win in Spring Preps

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds have won their first exhibition game in four tries.

The bases were loaded when Vada Pinson singled to hoist the Reds to a 5-2 victory over Baltimore Tuesday night.

Pinson had two other hits in serving notice he's ready to take up where he left off when he led Reds' batters on just about every count last year, including a .315 average.

Orioles' rookie Jim Archer put two strikes and a ball past the sober-faced Californian, then served one up that Pinson lashed to right field. Gus Bell followed by batting in an insurance marker.

Pinson, cautious with predictions, says "I have only one goal this season. That is to improve my batting average."

At age 21, Pinson already has made his mark as a skilled outfielder and hitter.

If he has a fault, it's a fielding difficulty on balls hit directly overhead. Coach Wally Moses is helping him break that.

SCO Meet Slated Today at Hillsboro

Circleville High School administrators and coaches travel to Hillsboro tonight for a regular South Central Ohio League meeting.

A business session will follow a 6:30 p. m. dinner. Officials from other SCO schools slated to attend are from Washington C. H., Greenfield, Wilmington, Franklin Heights, Pleasant View and proposed new member Miami Trace.

tial. He said development of the backfield corps remains to be seen.

Nine regulars from the 1959 squad graduated and regular guard Irving Ellis is slated to move to South Carolina in the near future.

Only one regular returns from the 1958 squad. He is End Jake Bailey, a 170-pounder who has sure hands as a receiver and is a tough competitor.

THREE other lettermen returning in addition to Bailey are: Pat Rooney, a 170-pound back; Alex Cook, a 165-pound end; and John Williams, a 160-pound tackle.

Up from the second team of last year are: Guard Danny Moffitt, 160 pounds; Tackle Phil Wing, 160 pounds; Center Steve Helwagen, 190 pounds; and Halfback Chuck McDowell, 150 pounds.

Promising gridriders coming up from the reserve squad are: Freshman Halfback Garold Dade who played considerable varsity ball last year and a performer considered to have great potential. Backfielder Jim Anderson, Tackles Ron Cain and Gary Harrison, Quarterback Roger Roebuck, End Bob Wilson and Guard Randy Tackett.

Coming on as sophomores next season to compete for varsity positions are Mike Perkins, John Butler, Bob Cushing, James Adams, Bob Schmidt, Bob Waple, Mike Wilson and Gary Lagore. Experienced boys who did not

Surface of Moon Believed To Be Comparatively Flat

BEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—Space-men landing on the moon won't find a land widely scarred with jagged mountains and deep craters; it will be less rugged than previously thought, and flatter, scientists reported today.

These conclusions disclosed by the Cambridge research center of the Air Research and Development Command, are based on a new technical study of the moon's surface in which British, French and American scientists are taking part.

The conclusions are based upon measurements of shadows of lunar prominences as the shadows creep forward, or recede, across the moon's surface.

Knowing the relative positions of earth, moon and sun, it is then possible to compute heights of prominences rising above the surrounding lunar terrain and determine the profile of the surrounding surface.

The Air Force scientists say the study shows there is an apparent lack of steep slopes or towering rock faces. In fact, the absence of pronounced landmarks may give the moon traveler difficulty in identifying his position.

The new technique had its origin in original lunar topography studies made public in February 1958 by Prof. Zdenek Kopal of the University of Manchester, in England, and Dr. Gilbert Fielder, a graduate student. Their work came to the attention of Charles F. Campen, acting chief of the lunar-planetary exploration branch of the geophysics directorate, at the Cambridge research center.

Campen met with Dr. Kopal in the following April. The result was a contract between the University of Manchester and the U. S. Air Force for developing the technique.

Arrangements were made with Dr. Jean Roesch, director of the Pic-du-Midi Observatory, of the University of Toulouse, France, for members of the University of Manchester staff to use the observatory's 24-inch refracting telescope. Dr. Roesch and his staff actively assisted.

Already it appears, Campen says, that a man standing on the surface of the moon would see a horizon without the immediate, towering craters envisaged in the past by artists who worked from previous concepts of the moon's surface.

Views on Television-Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The dearth of bright, young television writers is caused by good times, says Albert McCleary.

The veteran producer, now head of CBS' Television Workshop which is dedicated to the development of new talent, maintains "this is the dulllest generation in the past 50 years—a generation of the rich which has no lacks."

"Young writers of the 1930s—the depression years—were writers of protest," he insists. "The writers of the 1940s had the drama of war and the reality of destruction. Today's writers are only worrying about how to live in peace and prosperity. They don't have much to say except the importance of being able to communicate with each other."

Peace and prosperity seems to have had an effect on comedy, too.

"You can't kid the upper classes and you can't kid the lower classes—they don't like it," he says. "So there isn't much of anybody left to kid, with the result we have only a handful of comedy writers. And I'm not talking about gag writers."

After all these weeks of serious Workshop dramas concerned with such social problems as narcotics addiction and lynching, McCleary finally found a comedy. It will be presented next Sunday—12 noon-12:55 p.m.—and is called "Anniversary Dinner." It concerns one area still available to the satirist's scalpel: the Washington political scene.

Steve Allen's Monday night show with Mort Sahl was one of the brightest of the NBC comedian's whole season. His show, incidentally, will continue into June—but its survival next season is still doubtful.

Almost certain casualties next season will include "Bourbon Street Beat," "The Betty Hutton Show," "Twilight Zone," The new "Andy Griffith Show" is expected to replace "The Ann Sothern Show."

Recommended tonight: Perry Como Show, NBC, 9-10—with Bing Crosby and Genevieve; Circle Theatre, CBS, 10-11—"The Desperate Season," a study of suicide.

CINCINNATI (AP) — Isadore Abrahams of Cincinnati must pay $100,000 damages in settlement of a suit approved Tuesday by Judge Chase Davies in Probate Court. Mrs. Estamae Gibson, 20, sought $335,000 in the suit, contending she lost her left leg and suffered eight fractures of her right leg when struck by Abrahams' car June 5, 1959. It was the largest amount noted in a settlement in Probate Court records.

Surface of Moon Believed To Be Comparatively Flat

BEDFORD, Mass. (AP)—Space-men landing on the moon won't find a land widely scarred with jagged mountains and deep craters; it will be less rugged than previously thought, and flatter, scientists reported today.

These conclusions disclosed by the Cambridge research center of the Air Research and Development Command, are based on a new technical study of the moon's surface in which British, French and American scientists are taking part.

The conclusions are based upon measurements of shadows of lunar prominences as the shadows creep forward, or recede, across the moon's surface.

Knowing the relative positions of earth, moon and sun, it is then possible to compute heights of prominences rising above the surrounding lunar terrain and determine the profile of the surrounding surface.

This is described as the first mapping of the face of the moon to show how it will appear to a traveler on its surface.

The Air Force scientists say the study shows there is an apparent lack of steep slopes or towering rock faces. In fact, the absence of pronounced landmarks may give the moon traveler difficulty in identifying his position.

The new technique had its origin in original lunar topography studies made public in February 1958 by Prof. Zdenek Kopal of the University of Manchester, in England, and Dr. Gilbert Fielder, a graduate student. Their work came to the attention of Charles F. Campen, acting chief of the lunar-planetary exploration branch of the geophysics directorate, at the Cambridge research center.

Campen met with Dr. Kopal in the following April. The result was a contract between the University of Manchester and the U. S. Air Force for developing the technique.

Arrangements were made with Dr. Jean Roesch, director of the Pic-du-Midi Observatory, of the University of Toulouse, France, for members of the University of Manchester staff to use the observatory's 24-inch refracting telescope. Dr. Roesch and his staff actively assisted.

Already it appears, Campen says, that a man standing on the surface of the moon would see a horizon without the immediate, towering craters envisaged in the past by artists who worked from previous concepts of the moon's surface.

Colavito Bat Booms in Win Against Cubs

MESA, Ariz. (AP)—Rocky Colavito knocked in four runs with a homer and a bases-loaded single as the Cleveland Indians defeated the Chicago Cubs 7-5 Tuesday for their first exhibition victory of the year.

The slugger from The Bronx, N.Y., shared the laurels with rookie pitcher Carl Thomas, who protected the Tribe's slim lead in the last three innings.

Long doubles by Jim Piersall and Tito Francona gave the Indians a run in the first inning. Colavito added two more with a clout over the left field fence off Rocky Riddick, an ex-Indian.

Rocky bounced a single to center in the third after hits by Piersall and John Temple and a walk to Francona filled the bases. This broke a tie, for the Cubs had scored three runs off John Briggs.

After the Cubs scored two more runs off southpaw Ed Drapeho, Thomas came in and held them to one single. He struck out three. The Cubs' big man was Dale Long, who hit a homer and two singles.

Al Schroll, former Red Sox right hander, gave a perfect mound performance for the Cubs, facing 10 batters and retiring all. Only one ball was hit out of the infield.

Herb Score is on the Tribe's sick list with a severe ear ache, but he's scheduled to pitch Thursday.

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The dearth of bright, young television writers is caused by good times, says Albert McCleary.

The veteran producer, now head of CBS' Television Workshop which is dedicated to the development of new talent, maintains "this is the dullest generation in the past 50 years—a generation of the rich which has no lacks."

"Young writers of the 1930s—the depression years—were writers of protest," he insists. "The writers of the 1940s had the drama of war and the reality of destruction. Today's writers are only worrying about how to live in peace and prosperity. They don't have much to say except the importance of being able to communicate with each other."

Peace and prosperity seems to have had an effect on comedy, too.

"You can't kid the upper classes and you can't kid the lower classes—they don't like it," he says. "So there isn't much of anybody left to kid, with the result we have only a handful of comedy writers. And I'm not talking about gag writers."

After all these weeks of serious Workshop dramas concerned with such social problems as narcotics addiction and lynching, McCleary finally found a comedy. It will be presented next Sunday—12 noon-12:55 p.m.—and is called "Anniversary Dinner." It concerns one area still available to the satirist's scalpel: the Washington political scene.

brightest of the NBC comedian's whole season. His show, incidentally, will continue into June—but its survival next season is still doubtful.

Almost certain casualties next season will include "Bourbon Street Beat," "The Betty Hutton Show," "Twilight Zone." The new "Andy Griffith Show" is expected to replace "The Ann Sothern Show."

Recommended tonight: Perry Como Show, NBC, 9-10—with Bing Crosby and Genevieve; Circle Theatre, CBS, 10-11—"The Desperate Season," a study of suicide.

Poetry Creeps Into Business Before Solons

But, last night City Council heard some from attorney Carl Leist, circa 1871.

Leist asked Council to give a deed to a 13-foot strip of land to the heirs of Jacob and Lucinda Brown. The deed is needed to remove a cloud over the ownership of the property which is at Clinton and Mound Sts. and formerly was Pike Alley.

It seems that back in 1871 the Browns gave the city a strip of land 32 feet wide on the east side of their lot and the city, in turn, leased to the Browns a strip 13 feet wide on the west side of the lot.

The lease, which was never filed, was to run "as long as water runs and grass grows." The lease was never filed, creating the cloud on title to the land. Leist wants Council to pass an ordinance giving deed to the land for "as long as water runs and grass grows."

'Same-Name' Hearing Set For Friday

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Friday is the new deadline for the Cuyahoga County Board of Elections to say why two Clevelanders with similar names should seek election May 3 as delegates to the Democratic National Convention. The Ohio Supreme Court moved the deadline back Tuesday, the original date.

Thomas A. Burke, former U.S. senator and Cleveland mayor, had protested the running of a Thomas P. Burke for delegate in the 23rd Congressional District of Cuyahoga County.

The extension was granted for answering an alternative writ of prohibition granted in a taxpayers' suit filed by two men after the former senator's protest. They claimed Thomas P. Burke did not qualify as a resident of the district by registering in a hotel on Jan. 31.

The former senator is pledged to Gov. Michael V. DiSalle as favorite son. T. A. Burke's supporters claimed the same-name candidate filed so as to draw votes in a contest between DiSalle and Ray T. Miller Sr., the county chairman. Miller filed a partial delegate slate for the primary election.

Miller and DiSalle are pledged to Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) for president. T. P. Burke is pledged to himself.

Subdivision Rules On First Reading

City Council last night passed no ordinances since only five lawmakers were present, but the body considered a number of important measures.

The legislators placed on first reading an ordinance setting up subdivision regulations. That measure was the object of a public hearing two weeks ago.

The ordinance incorporates some changes suggested at the hearing. It will come up for second reading at the next meeting.

Placed on first reading also was a bill to transfer $100 from the Contingent Fund to Council Incidentals, and $150 from Contingent Fund to Auditor's Incidentals.

Council authorized Solicitor Robert Huffer to prepare a resolution employing the city engineering consultant, Burgess - Niple, to make detailed plans for a storm sewer in the extreme north end at the request of Chester Blue and Donald Watt.

THE LAWMAKERS also authorized Huffer to draw an ordinance which would allow the city to employ bond counsel to finance a storm sewer in that area.

County Civil Defense Director Bernard Tait asked the city to share in the cost of purchasing emergency communications equipment for CD work here. He asked $250 as the city's share. He said the county would be asked for $250 while the state would provide $500 and the Federal government $1,000.

Councilman Harold Clifton reported on the condition of the City Building. He said it needs roof repairs, sandblasting of the exterior and repointing. He stated the estimated cost would be about $3,500. He was asked to work with the Finance Committee to determine if money is available for the work.

Dem Chairman Weathers His Latest Boner

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler seemed likely today to survive a political boo-boo that might have cost a less-agile performer his job.

Butler made what many in his party regard as the political mistake of being caught at predicting that Sen. John F. Kennedy (D-Mass) will win the Democratic presidential nomination.

He was identified by the New York Post, which presumably had no representative there, as the highly placed Democrat who told a group of reporters at the National Press Club Monday that recent developments indicate a Kennedy victory.

National chairmen are traditionally supposed to be neutral in pre-convention contests. Under political protocol they are not permitted to side publicly with one candidate against another or even suggest that any particular individual is in the lead.

Some other chairman might have faced serious demands for his ouster from the temporarily united forces of Kennedy's rivals for the nomination. But only Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey came forward to say that Butler had "out-lived his usefulness" by taking sides in the presidential contest.
